THE REVOLUTIONARY PRISONS OF NEW YORK CITY

The "Hall of Records," in City Hall Park, once the Provost Prison was the last of the noted prisons of the war of the Revolution to give way to the demands of traffic and the march of progress.

Although completely remodeled as to its exterior, within this building retained to the very last much to remind one of the dark days when so many patriots languished therein. The dungeon was disclosed in which the fiery Ethan Allen fretted and pined for liberty to serve his country and here, in better quarters—for he was a favored prisoner—General Charles Lee, at one time a rival to the great Washington, spent nearly two years of irksome confinement. However, it was not long before he made his peace with Howe, the British commander, as is well known, effacing the peril of treason to England by at least some considerable approach to treason to the cause of America. In due time he regained his freedom, only to fall into well-merited contempt for his disgraceful flight at Monmouth, where his record as an officer abruptly ended.

This Provost prison was in charge of one Cunningham, whose cruelty has given his name odium that was well deserved.

Lord Howe and his brother, the general, were both men of honest intentions and kind heart. It was their misfortune (and that of the American prisoners) that they had been bred in the strictest school of military routine and precedent, and that many of their subordinates were men of the vilest character.

Exchanges were not possible, for, till after Trenton, the Americans had taken but few prisoners, and the situation of the thousands captured by the British, and collected in New York, soon became truly deplorable. All the churches, except "Trinity," which was destroyed in the great fire of 1776, were used for military purposes, and for additional prisons several large and substantial sugar houses were taken for the confinement of the common soldiers. These, with the "hulks" anchored in the East River, were soon crowded with prisoners of war. Of the sugar houses, one, the largest and most famous was situated upon Liberty Street. A man named Waddy was warden, who is said to have been quite the equal of the infamous Cunningham in brutality.

Sugar House Prison, Rose and Duane Streets.

This building was torn down in 1840. Another sugar house was Rhinelanders', at the corner of Rose and Duane Streets. It was standing in 1890, but has since been replaced by an immense business house. The owners, with exceptional good taste, incorporated into the wall of the new structure an entire window of the ancient prison.

The "Middle Dutch" Church was used as a prison only a few months, having been then turned into a riding school. It is noted as having been the place of captivity of John Paulding, afterwards distinguished as one of the captors of the gallant and unfortunate André. At one time the inmates made a desperate attempt to escape by means of a tunnel under the foundation.

The poor fellows were however betrayed when they had almost succeeded, and were intercepted by the authorities. But one of all their number succeeded in getting free; this one was Paulding. This old church was used for many years as the city post office, as the need of accommodations increased, being gradually surrounded by a mass of sheds and enclosures, till at last the original stone walls were entirely hidden from view. It was demolished in 1860.

were at first destined for the confinement of those taken upon the high seas, but for lack of other accommodations, were eventually filled with prisoners from the land forces. Of these "hulks" the most notorious was the "Jersey" which in 1780 was moored in the "Wallabout," where the navy yard is now, and remained there till the close of the war.

The Continental Congress was fully alive to the terrible sufferings endured by the patriots imprisoned in New York, but the country was so miserably poor, and the control of the general government over the states so inefficient that funds were scant or lacking to alleviate their distress.

Even to provide for the armies in the field was almost impossible. Washington appointed John Franklin, a wealthy Quaker merchant of New York, agent for prisoners, but Clinton refused to allow him to act in that capacity, chiefly, it is said, because of his pronounced republican sympathies.

Jersey Prison Ship.

Lewis Pintard was finally appointed, and was largely instrumental in relieving the sufferings of his countrymen.

The byways of history are even more interesting than the highways, and often the stroller into secluded paths comes suddenly upon some curious happening, or upon an authentic incident that may perhaps have escaped the historian. Amid the very clank and tumult of the busiest of New York streets, where the world-famous Wall Street ends at Broadway, the spire of Trinity, overhung in this modern epoch by higher towers of commerce, looks calmly down upon a serene silence of ancient graves. Through the tall iron railings may be seen on any pleasant day curious strangers rambling amid the tombs, deciphering their quaint epitaphs. Most pretentious of all the many monuments is one of costly Gothic architecture, bearing a grateful inscription that it was reared in memory of the ill-fated patriots who gave their lives, while prisoners of war in New York City, to the glorious cause of American independence.—W. J. ROE. (From an article printed in Philadelphia).

EDWARD HAND

A Friend and Companion of Washington

There are few more interesting characters in American History than that of General Edward Hand, born in 1744, at Clydruff, Province of Leinster, Ireland. As a youth of twenty-three years he had acquired sufficient knowledge of medicine and surgery to procure an appointment as surgeon's mate in the Eighteenth Royal Irish Regiment, by King George the Third.

He sailed from Cork with his regiment on May 20, 1767 and arrived in Philadelphia July 11th. In 1772 he was commissioned ensign of the Eighteenth Regiment and served with the British troops in the expedition to Fort Pitt. In 1774 he resigned his commission, receiving a regular discharge from British service. This same year he went to Lancaster, Pennsylvania, with a letter of introduction to Jasper Yeates, from Surgeon Batt, of the British army.

Here he began the practice of medicine. The following year he married Katharine, daughter of John Ewing and a niece of Judge Jasper Yeates. Hardly had the bans been solemnized when the tocsin of war sounded through the land. He left the home and occupations of peace, to enter on that long seven years campaign from Lexington to Yorktown. He bore a commission in the First Battalion of Pennsylvania Riflemen, Colonel Thompson Commander, June 25, 1775.

From this time he participated in almost every battle of the Revolution. At Long Island he distinguished himself by his display of military skill and being brought into immediate connection with Gen. Washington was recognized at once by the Commander-in-chief as an efficient officer and remained a trusted friend and advisor in almost constant communication with headquarters, becoming a member of Washington's staff. He was at the Roger Morris house at New York when Nathan Hale was sent on his fatal errand.

He was made lieutenant-colonel First Continental Regiment, January 1, 1776; accompanied the army through the Jerseys; was commissioned brigadier-general 1777; held the rank of adjutant general from 1781 to 1783. His portrait is found in two celebrated historical paintings, "Washington crossing the Delaware," and "Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown."

After the war he showed talents for civil life not less remarkable than his military career. He was elected to the lower House, Pennsylvania legislature, in 1785, and later a member of the Continental Congress as a strong Federalist. He returned to Lancaster where he became chief burgess of the city, in which capacity he had the honor of entertaining Gen. Washington on his tour through the northern cities. July 4th, the 15th anniversary of independence, at the banquet given at Lancaster on the occasion, toasts were drunk to Washington and to Gen. Hand.

The house which he built on the Conestoga, just out from Lancaster, which he called "Rockford" is still standing. The certificate of membership in the Society of the Cincinnati is in the possession of his great-grandson, John L. Atlee, of Trenton Junction, New Jersey, also the appointment by George III to surgeon in Eighteenth Royal Irish Regiment. The Ottawa, Kansas, Chapter is named for this worthy hero—the Gen. Edward Hand Chapter. Mrs. Dr. J. Davis and Mrs. Dr. H. W. Gilley, two great-granddaughters of the General reside in Ottawa and Mrs. Davis opens the house annually on Washington's birthday for a reception to the Daughters of the chapter and invited guests.

She possesses many interesting relics, among them a letter from General Washington dated:

MOUNT VERNON, Jan. 14th, 1784

MY DEAR SIR: When I left Philadelphia I hoped to have the pleasure of seeing you at Annapolis and expressing to you personally amongst the last acts of my official life, my entire approbation of your public conduct, particularly in the execution of the important duties of Adjutant General * *

And I cannot defer making use of the first occasion, after my retirement, of informing you, my dear sir, how much reason I have had to be satisfied with the great zeal, attention, and ability manifested by you in conducting the business of your department and how happy I should be for an opportunity of demonstrating my sincere regard and esteem for you. It is unnecessary, I hope, to add with what pleasure I should see you at this place; being with great truth, my dear sir, your real friend and most obedient servant

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

The standard borne by Col. Hand's Pennsylvania First Regiment was the device on a deep green ground of a tiger partly enclosed by toils, attempting the pass defended by a hunter, armed with a spear in white on a crimson ground; the motto Domari molo (I am not willing to be conquered). This standard is still in the possession of the State of Pennsylvania, having been purchased by Hon. M. S. Quay, once secretary of the Commonwealth.

The useful career of this remarkable man was ended by his sudden death after a few hours illness of cholera morbus on September 3, 1802, in his fifty-eighth year. The inscription on his tomb stone reads: "Edward Hand, M. D. A General officer of the Revolution. The friend and companion of Washington."—JENNIE MEEKER WARD, Registrar General Edward Hand Chapter.

FORT WILLIAM AND MARY

The picturesque little fort is situated on a projecting point of land, at one time an island, at New Castle on the Piscataqua River in Portsmouth Harbor. In that historical harbor the first overt act of rebellion against the mother country took place; under Major John Sullivan, who held a royal commission under Gov. Wentworth in 1772, at the age of 31. In 1714 he was a member of the Provincial Assembly and was sent to Philadelphia as a delegate in September. Sullivan was quick to perceive that the struggle was inevitable, and began to prepare for action. He planned with Major Langdon and Thomas Pickering of Portsmouth an attack on Fort William and Mary, but this plan was not fully decided on until December 14th, when Paul Revere rode into the town of Durham with this message to Sullivan from the Council of Safety: "The King's last mandate prohibits the importation of military stores into the Colonies and two regiments are ordered to march from Boston to protect the stores at Portsmouth, N. H." This was just four months before Paul Revere's famous ride from Boston to Lexington. Paul Revere set the smouldering embers aflame. Sullivan felt now indeed had come the time to act, to secure what arms and ammunition they could to protect their own lives and liberties! Collecting his men who had thronged to the town on the news of Revere's message being spread, he manned a flat bottomed boat called a gondola, such as they still use in those tide-water rivers, and sailed down the shallow Oyster river into the broader Piscataqua nine miles down the harbor to Fort William and Mary at New Castle, where English Captain Cochrane and a small garrison were stationed. It was a clear, cold moonlight night. The water was too shallow for the boat to land. The men took off their boots and waded to the island, the water freezing to them. They landed silently and stole upon the sleeping garrison, who aroused thus rudely in the night, bade them enter at their peril. Captain Cochrane ordered the three four-pounders and small arms fired upon them, but before they could reload Sullivan's men had entered the fort and taken possession. They broke open the powder house and secured 100 kegs of powder and 100 small arms. Alexander Schammell tore down the royal standard. He afterwards served with great distinction in the Continental Army, and was shot at Yorktown by his captors, the Hessians, just as Cornwallis was about to surrender, thus being in the first and last acts of the Revolution. On this night the men waded to and fro in the icy waters carrying the powder until their boat was laden, then sailed up the harbor with the incoming tide into the Piscataqua, keeping off their boots all the cold night lest the hob nails should strike fire and ignite the powder. They arrived at Durham in the early hours of morn, and landed their stores, hiding what they could under the pulpit of the church and in a pit made by John Demeritt, where it rested undisturbed until needed at Bunker Hill, for all historians tell us that not only Prescott but Stark and Sullivan were on their last rounds of powder, which struck terror to their leader's heart! Sullivan had joined Washington at Cambridge in June, and had written to the Council of Safety at New Hampshire. "The powder is nearly exhausted." In their direst need the fruits of his daring served them well! John Demeritt, afterwards captain in the Continental army arrived with his ox-cart loaded with part of the treasured powder—carted over that rocky, hilly country some 60 miles.

Fort William and Mary was afterwards named Fort Constitution. It has been the scene of many stirring events and is now a part of the coast defense in Portsmouth harbor.

Throughout the war Sullivan's name was synonymous of all that was brave. He became major-general and his daring and brilliant exploits north and south are recorded in the history of our nation. Nor did his services cease with the war. He served his state as president and as judge. He died in Durham, New Hampshire, January 28, 1795. His house, a large typical New England home, stands on a hill just above the Oyster River, back of the church. And in the quiet town of Durham rest the ashes of this soldier statesman marked by a plain marble slab: "To Major General Sullivan." A new church has been erected and in each of its four corners is a tablet commemorating the event. The State has erected a monument to him in the center of the town with this inscription:

"Erected by the State upon the site of the old meeting house under which the gunpowder was taken from Fort William and Mary."—ELIZABETH GADSBY, Historian General.

ART AND ARTISTS OF THE REVOLUTION

During the reign of George III, in the town of Boston, with only eighteen thousand inhabitants, there hung in the library of Harvard University a copy of "A Cardinal" by Van Dycke. The New England states were opposed to art as a principle, but showed signs of literary and artistic activity at this time. Exhibitions were unknown, the painters were "traveling artists" who went over the country painting portraits on sign boards, stage coaches, and fire engines, for practice and also a living. John Singleton Copley, in Boston, was the only American artist who did meritorious work. Before he came under foreign influences, he wielded his brush with great dexterity, "The Death of the Earl of Chatham" in the National Gallery in London, being one of his famous pictures. The grouping of the portrait figures is skillfully arranged. To our art, the portraits he painted in Boston are of importance. The lesson thus taught led us into the interior of the royalist era, with carved furniture, showy curtains, peopled with well-to-do men and women, lavishly robed, that suggests the customs as well as the people of the Revolutionary period. Benjamin West, a contemporary of Copley, had nothing in common with the development of American art. He left at an early age for England, where he climbed the pinnacle of social, if not artistic success. He was a personal friend of the king, was employed as his historical painter, succeeding Sir Joshua Reynolds as president of the royal academy. One of his pictures quite noted was "Christ Rejected." Death on the Pale Horse," the size of the canvass he used was 200 by 264 feet. His daring innovation of dressing the characters showed the costumes of the time and country in which they lived. It was his picturesque personality more than his art that attracts us to-day. In his native town, Philadelphia, it is said the Cherokee Indian taught him the secret of preparing color. This was the first city in the Union where opportunities for art growth and a moderate patronage presented themselves. Charles Wilson Peale, a man rather versatile, also a painter of some merit, established the first "Art Gallery," a museum of historical portraits, in his residence in Philadelphia.

John Trumbull, was a different type, was not so richly endowed by natural gifts, every accomplishment meant strenuous study, yet dear to us for his glorification of revolutionary history "The Battle of Bunker Hill," "The Death of Montgomery" and "The Declaration of Independence," these are familiar. The growth of art was handicapped, more than benefited, America, was now an independent nation. The Royalists who could afford the luxury of art left this country. Now three men stepped forth who bore upon their brush tips the honor and progress of American art, Thomas Sully, John Vanderlyn and Washington Allston. The first mentioned became rapidly the most fashionable portrait painter of the day. His sweet faces, with robes draped gracefully, show great progress and execution. Sully was represented at the Philadelphia Academy by one hundred and sixteen pictures. It is said he painted a full length portrait of Queen Victoria.

Vanderlyn lived in Rome painting. Washington Allston painted on his enormous canvas "Belshazzar's Feast." "The Angel Liberating St. Peter from Prison" is one of decided merit. Gilbert Stuart was not a follower of the others, had a distinct and forceful individuality, the striking details of his work being brilliance in coloring and the natural life-like posing. He was the first American master of painting. His early sketches were lost. At the age of thirteen he received commission to paint two portraits. Two years later he went to Scotland. His stay there was short, he pined for home, secured passage and returned, later going to London in 1775, suffering privation. Afterwards a pupil under West for five years, his success was immediate; people of wit and fashion thronged his studio. He tasked himself to six sitters a day. Then devoting himself to society, living in great splendor. During this period he painted Louis the Sixteenth, George III, and Prince of Wales. Now his position was assured, he indulged himself in refusing many sitters, money failed to tempt him, only those who appealed to his artistic taste or afforded the best opportunity for a good picture. He was willing to give up all the golden opportunities Europe presented that he might have the privilege and satisfaction of painting the one man, whose heroic qualities fascinated him most. In 1792 he returned to the City of Brotherly Love, establishing his studio here, painted three portraits of Washington, unlike Peale, who made in all fourteen of Washington from life, painting him in the prime of his vigour. Stuart depicts the late autumn of his life, a face in which the lines of character are softened, a face chastened by responsibilities, it is the face, who has conquered himself as well as others; he represents him indeed as "The Father of His Country." He said, "I copy the works of God" leave clothes to the tailor, and mantua maker.

In Washington he found sentiment, grace and character. In the story of art, Gilbert Stuart holds a unique, and dignified position. "The Course of Nature is but the Art of God." Thomas Cole was a landscape painter. The sketches he painted in the Catskills—the banks, woods, rocks and the Cascades—gained recognition. He was an ardent student of English literature, influenced by Sir Walter Scott. In truth, was more of a poet than painter. His noted pictures were "The Voyage of Childhood," "The Course of Empire," consisting of five canvasses, first, representing. "A Nation's Rise, Progress, Decline and Fall." These are at the Historical Society of New York. The last picture of the serial entitled, "Desolation" has rarely been surpassed in solemn majesty, and depth of thought.—MISS EMILY G. MORROW.

BITS OF HISTORY

Paper read Before Swamp Fox Chapter by its Historian, Mrs. N. M. Johnson.

Early in August, 1780, General Marion led his men across Pee Dee at Ports Ferry and dispersed a large body of Tories between Great and Little Pee Dee rivers, under command of Maj. Gahey. He then detached Maj. James to attack their horses, who, coming up with them, drove them into Little Pee Dee swamp. Marion then returned to Ports Ferry and threw up a redoubt on the east side bank of the river to overawe the Tories and while thus employed heard of the defeat of Gates.

According to Gregg's History, Marion joined Col. Giles on Pee Dee and according to Ramsey, Col. Giles joined the force under Maj. James on Lynches Creek, about the time of Marion's arrival from Gates.

The redoubt referred to by Gregg at Giles' Bluff, and the redoubt referred to by Ramsey at Ports Ferry, must be one and the same. Old people living now in the vicinity of Ports Ferry do not know that there was ever a redoubt there, all tradition of it has perished. But James Jenkins, who was then 16 years old and who lived just below Old Neck church mentions Marion's redoubt at Ports Ferry and thus makes it certain that though no trace of it now remains, it was once there.

On the Sand Hills, near Ports Ferry, there is still to be seen a pit almost large and deep enough to contain a house, which tradition says Marion used for the confinement of prisoners.

There still exists at Dunham's Bluff a Revolutionary fortification, a part of which is in a good state of preservation. As Jenkins speaks of a redoubt thrown up on the east side of Pee Dee by Col. Irvin and occupied by him until driven out by the British, the Dunham Bluff redoubt is probably the one built by Irvin.

Maj. Gainey held 500 Tories in a camp at Bowling Green, a savannah about five miles north of Marion and near the road to Latta.

The Blue Savannah Battle grounds are near Ariel X Roads, and it was there that the fight between Gen. Marion and the Tories occurred.

Bear Swamp lies entirely in Carmichael and Hillsboro townships in Marion county, and a fight took place in that section of this county, but its exact location is not known.

Bass' Mill, on Catfish creek, the old mill site about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles west of Latta was, 1781, the scene of a small skirmish between the Whigs and Tories. At that time it was known as Hulin's Mill. Some daring outrages were committed in this neighborhood.

About the close of Revolution there was another fight between the Whigs and Tories in the fork between Little Pee Dee and Lumber river. Its precise location is not known.

Marion county is now a part of what was once Liberty county. The first thought of locating a county seat was at old river or Qua Qua Landing and until a few years back the remains of the old cellars could be seen there. On account of fever in this place Thomas Godbold said, if they would move to the Cross Run, he would donate land for the public square.

Main street is the original Indian trail from their fishing grounds to their hunting grounds.

Consequently, in 1800, the first court house was built where the present one now stands.

The first jail was built on the northeast division of the square. A sycamore tree, which is still standing, marks the place of one of the chimneys.

There were no buildings for worship until after 1812. Then there was a brick building built, which was used for an academy and a church. It was not a place of worship for one special sect, but was used for all denominations.

The first tavern was a two-story log building on the road leading from Smith's Swamp, which was the first public road leading into the village.

The first masonic lodge was built where the present one is. The only postoffice in the early days of Marion was a box attached to a tree, which stood near where Mr. Henry Mullins now lives.

There were a half dozen buildings around the square, among these were three stores. All of these stores had piazzas extending around them, where the old veterans gathered on public days to talk of the days of Marion and Sumter.

In court days the square presented a lively appearance. The attendants on court, the jurors and the witnesses came in carts and camped on the Square.

After much talking what is now known as the A. C. L. road, first called Wilmington and Manchester and was really the second in the state, was completed or connected with Columbia in October 1854.

SONG OF OHIO'S DAUGHTERS

(Tune—Columbia; the Home of the Brave.)

Adopted by the Ohio Conference of Daughters, October, 1908, as the song for the present year.

All hail to Ohio's fair Daughters
Whose forefathers, valiant and brave,
In America's great Revolution
Served nobly their country to save.
They fought with a courage undaunted
That justice and truth might prevail.
They fought to destroy rank oppression,
And Liberty's statue unveil.

CHORUS.

All hail to our forefathers brave,
Who fought their loved country to save.
Their memories fondly we cherish,
Proud victors of land and of wave.

All hail to Ohio's fair Daughters
Whose foremothers, loyal and true,
With hearts that were willing did nobly
Whatever their hands found to do.
Though burdens were heavy and many,
And great sacrifice they must make,
They patiently, faithfully labored
For home and their loved country's sake

CHORUS.

All hail to our foremothers true
Whose comforts and treasures were few
Who cheered and encouraged the many
That fought 'neath the red, white and blue.

All hail to Ohio's fair Daughters:
May each a true patriot be,
And give of her best to the Nation
For blessings received full and free.
All hail to the many fair Daughters:
May heart beat responsive to heart,
And ever in love be united,
Truth, peace and good will to impart.

CHORUS.

All hail to the Daughters so true:
May each this resolve make anew,
To cherish, protect and to honor
Forever the red, white and blue.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE SONG

TUNE "YANKEE DOODLE"

After the last Continental Congress and seeing the necessity of it, Miss Mary I. Stille, of West Chester, Pa., State Historian of Pennsylvania's Daughters, had her friend Mrs. Sara Louisa Oberholtzer, of Philadelphia, the poet laureate of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, write a State song to the tune of "Yankee Doodle." At the State Conference, held in York, October 13th and 14th, the song was submitted, led by the historian. It took like wild fire and now the fifty-four Pennsylvania Chapters are having copies printed and sung in their meetings. The Historian had five hundred copies printed and presented to the chapters.

Grace and glory for the Nation,
Pennsylvania sings it.
The immortal Declaration
Here had birth; she rings it.
Pennsylvania's D. A. R.,
Pennsylvania's Daughters
Honor ancestors who made
Free our land and waters.

Fathers, freemen, brave and loyal,
When a foe insistent
Cramped their liberties became Patriots persistent.
Valley Forge and Brandywine,
Germantown, Paoli,
These historic points to us
Are as memories holy.

Here they fought and died preserving
Freedom's colors waving,
And through suffering and long serving
Blessed us in their saving.
Pennsylvania's D. A. R.,
Pennsylvania's Daughters
Honor ancestors who made
Free our land and waters.

God of love and light and glory,
Reigning and supernal;
God of peace and God of battles,
Gratitude eternal
Pennsylvania's Daughters give
For the Revolution;
For the victories nobly won
And the Constitution.

APOSTROPHE TO THE EAGLE

Westward, O Eagle of the stars,
Across the sunset sea!
The wind is blowing o'er the bars
And out a taut to lee.
Wing out across the waters blue
O'er wraiths of spray and mist
O'er tone of changing sheen and hue
O'er gleam of amethyst.

Outward across the waters free
From out the Golden Gate
The Great East waiteth long for thee
Speed on thy course elate.
Touch Hawaii! Touch Guam's lone shore!
On o'er the coral strand!
The Philippines are on before
Within the summer land.

Upward, O Standard-Bearer, on,
Thy cyrie in the hills
Thy screams have startled far the dawn
Where chism of dew distills
Thy haughty eye has viewed the past
Thou piercest cloud and air
The vista of the nation vast
Is shielded with thee there.

Onward, O Eagle of the stars!
O spirit of the west!
The Grail is held o'er litten bars
The guerdon of the quest,
Westward, thy brother waiteth thee
Lay on his lifted brow
The coronet of Liberty
The birthright of the Now.

Skyward, O Bird of Glory, wing,
The air is full of song
Anthems of Allelulia ring
In rapture far along,
Hymns that the dauntless Pilgrims woke Along the lone sea wall,
Prayers that the midnight stillness broke,
Cheer of the strong man's call.

Godward, O Herald of the Free!
While centuries may roll
Wherever man may fettered be
In word, in thought, in soul.
Who raiseth man is touch with God,
He and his Lord are one.
Bear on the law, the lamp, the rod
On toward the westward sun.

—ADELL HELMERSHAUSEN, Chicago.

The Ohio Daughters in conference assembled at Fremont, October 15, enthusiastically sent a telegram to Mrs. Donald McLean, expressive of their loyalty and love, and appreciative of the great work she has done for the society.

They also, with equal enthusiasm endorsed her plans for bonding Continental Hall, as approved by the Seventeenth Continental Congress. They unqualifiedly approved of the action of the Ohio delegates in rising to the occasion and unanimously voting for the bonding and upholding the President General in her efforts to complete Continental Hall. The Secretary of the Ohio Conference was instructed to send a letter to Mrs. Donald McLean stating the above action.

REAL DAUGHTERS

MRS. HARRIET LUCINDA (PERRY) ELLIS.

Mrs. Ellis is the fourth "Real Daughter" of Prudence Wright Chapter of Pepperell, Massachusetts.

She is the daughter of Micah Perry, who enlisted at Lynn, Massachusetts, in 1778, when but eighteen years old, and of Susannah Woodbury, his second wife, and was born in Concord, Vermont, January 19, 1823.

Mrs. Harriet Lucinda (Perry) Ellis.

Micah Perry was the father of twenty children, having had ten by each wife.

The mother of Mrs. Ellis was the daughter of Jonathan Woodbury, Micah Perry's friend and contemporary, in company with whom, it is said, he served through the Revolutionary War, both being but lads when in the battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill.

According to family tradition they subsequently acted as aides to General Washington, who is said to have taught them to write, using birchbark for lack of paper, and who, in recognition of their services, presented each with a unique sugar-shell, whittled by himself from horn or bone, the two being exactly alike; one of which is still in existence, in the possession of Micah Perry's daughter, Mrs. Ellis, who also owns a silver suspender buckle belonging to her father, being one of a pair worn by him during the service; these, as well as his silver shoe and knee buckles and a brooch, were divided among his children.

The mother of Mrs. Ellis, Susannah Woodbury, was born in 1796, and was to have married Oliver Perry, Micah Perry's brother, but he died on the eve of the wedding, and she later, in 1818, married Micah, who was then a widower thirty-seven years older than she.

After her husband's death in 1839, she lived with her different children, and until her death in 1881, drew a pension as widow of a Revolutionary soldier.

Mrs. Ellis, our "Real Daughter," married Daniels Ellis, Jr., in 1850; she has been a widow since 1892, and is at present living with a married granddaughter in Winchendon, Massachusetts.

At eighty-five she is in possession of all her faculties, and it is a pleasure to meet and converse with her.—LUCY COLBURN BOYNTON, Historian.

MRS. MARY ANN ALLISON RISHEL.

The Bellefonte Chapter, Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, added to its membership on June 14, 1907, a "Real Daughter" in the person of Mrs. Mary Ann Allison Rishel, of Clintondale, Pa., who was born at Cedar Springs in Lamar township, which was then Centre county, on March 23, 1821.

She is the daughter of Matthew Allison and Sara Coates Bane, his 3rd wife.

Matthew Allison was born in Ireland in 1750 and he and his brother Archibald emigrated to Pennsylvania prior to the Revolution, both taking active part in the struggle. Matthew serving from 1778-1783 as ranger on the Frontiers.

He was paid six hundred dollars in Continental money for his services, the family keeping it for years, hoping the government would redeem it. He was the father of 15 children and Mrs. Rishel and her brother, aged 79, are the only survivors. Her half brother, Samuel Allison, served in the war of 1812 and her only son, Matthew, in the civil war, making the war record of her family remarkable centering in her as the connecting link of the present to the historic past of our country, holding the title of daughter, sister and mother to three generations of fighting stock.

insignia. She is well and active despite her years and this year was given a Revolutionary flag by the chapter to place on her father's grave near her home.

These links are being broken one by one and soon the last one will be severed and only the memory of these "Real Daughters" will be ours to cherish.—SARA BURNSIDE VALENTINE.

MRS. HARRIET BEMIS FARRIE.

Below is given a picture of Mrs. Farrie, the last "Real Daughter" of the Boston Tea Party Chapter. She passed to the life eternal August, 1907, aged one hundred years and nine months. A full account of her century of life and the

MRS. JANE ENGLIS SMITH.

Mrs. Jane Englis Smith, who was justly proud of the fact that her father was a revolutionary war soldier, passed away June 27, 1908, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Seward, in Tecumseh, Nebraska. Mrs. Smith was 92 years and 6 months of age.

Mrs. Smith was one of the few surviving "Real Daughters" of the American Revolution. Her death in a measure is of a sadly historical importance when it is reflected that within her generation and that of her brave and honored parents, the United States of America has grown from a struggling wilderness into the greatest country in the world. Mrs. Smith was a member of Stars and Stripes Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Burlington, Iowa. Some time ago she went to Tecumseh to visit her daughter, Mrs. Seward, and her remains will be laid to rest there.

Mrs. Smith was the youngest and last of thirteen children of Capt. Andrew and Rachel Englis. Capt. Englis served through the entire revolutionary war, being severely wounded in the battle of Monmouth. He was born in Palm, Massachusetts, in the year of 1752 and enlisted as a private in Col. Woodbridge's Massachusetts regiment; was promoted to the position of orderly sergeant in February, 1776, by appointment; promoted to second lieutenant in September, 1776; was severely wounded at the battle of Monmouth; in 1779 was commissioned captain in Col. Sproat's regiment, and served in that capacity until November, 1783. His claim for pension was allowed and his widow was pensioned.

He married Rachel Moore in Windsor, N. Y., November 26, 1786, and passed away May 26, 1832. Mrs. Englis passed away March 31, 1847, in Upper Alton, Illinois. Mrs. Englis' grandfather on her mother's side was also a revolutionary soldier, but she could not retain any record of his service in her mind that could be verified.

Mrs. Smith was born December 23, 1815, in Tioga county, New York. When three years old her parents moved to Tully Valley, sixteen miles from Syracuse, New York, where she was married in 1835 to Henry C. Caswell of Watertown, New York, and came as a pioneer bride to Upper Alton, Illinois. The surviving children of this marriage are Mrs. Caroline C. Turner of this city and Mrs. Mary Clayton, of Topeka, Kansas. Mr. Caswell died February 27, 1844, and in 1849, she became the wife of Woodridge N. Smith, of New Hampshire, who died February 8, 1851. Mrs. Stella Seward, of Tecumseh, Nebraska, was the only survivor of this union, and it was at her home that Mrs. Smith breathed her last.

Perhaps the most truthful tribute and one that would fully cover every excellent characteristic of which Mrs. Smith was possessed would be to say that she was an ideal American wife and mother. Her life was a grand one and its numerous years were filled with good deeds. Kindly, placid, with a deep-rooted Christianity, she pursued her career distributing sunshine and radiating goodness. To know her was a pleasure and the many friends in Burlington who enjoyed this distinction will grieve at her passing. In her family circle her place can never be supplied.

Dr. Wm. Salter penned the following tribute to Mrs. Smith:

"She was a lady of fine presence and dignified manners, and cherished the memories of her ancestry with an honest pride in the services of her father in achieving the liberty and independence of our country. The American spirit glowed warmly in her bosom."

---

The President General, Mrs. Donald McLean, returned to Washington for the October Board meeting, after a patriotic pilgrimage to Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In October West Virginia, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee will be honored with her presence. Wherever she goes her enthusiasm, eloquence, and earnestness arouses the Daughters to renewed efforts. Her presence has done much to bind in one complete whole the scattered chapters of the nation.

The Western Reserve Chapter, of Cleveland, took time from a social meeting to approve the action of their delegates in voting to uphold the President General, Mrs. Donald McLean, in bonding Continental Hall. The Secretary was instructed to inform her of the action of the chapter.

In a little pamphlet called "International Conciliation" which is published monthly by the American branch of the Association for International Conciliation the society has printed Elihu Root's presidential address made before the second meeting of the American Society of International Law, 1908. French, German, and Spanish translations of the address are being distributed throughout Europe by the Paris office of the association.

WORK OF THE CHAPTERS

Chautauqua Circle, of the Daughters of the American Revolution is a most unique organization. Formed four years ago, by some loyal Daughters, who spend their summers in Chautauqua, the wisdom and foresight of these founders has already been shown in the Circle's steadily increasing popularity. Mrs. M. B. Tucker, of John Marshall Chapter, Louisville, Kentucky, was its first president. For the past two summers, through the courtesy of our Presbyterian members, the weekly meetings have been held in the commodious reception room of the Presbyterian Headquarters. This season's membership has included representatives from sixty Chapters, many interesting reports of the work being accomplished by these chapters have been given by their members, especially so has been the reports from the Buffalo Chapter, Western Reserve Chapter and the Rochester Chapter, each being located in large cities, have given special attention to patriotic work in the public schools and illustrated lectures on historical subjects in the language adapted to the neighborhood, thus teaching these foreign children the real meaning of our American institutions and all that goes toward the making of a good American citizen. Very unique is the history of this chapter represented this summer, that of the Walter Dean Chapter, whose members are all descendants of "Walter Dean" and each one a life member of the organization; the Lone Tree Chapter of Waynesville, Indiana, named after a tree growing in the tower of this town's Court House, over 70 feet from the ground. At one of the Circle's meetings this summer, members of the U. D. C. in Chautauqua were invited as its guests. Most interestingly did these ladies speak of the work being accomplished by their respective organization as well as the Daughters of the American Revolution work through the South. Miss Ferguson, Miss Connelly and Mrs. Sharp from Alabama, and Mrs. Reeves, from Arkansas, told of the giving of scholarships in some of the Southern Universities building hospitals, homes for the aged and infirm soldier, caring for the orphans and widows of soldiers, erecting monuments, also the special effort both these organizations are taking in the child labor question, in some of the states. A bill regulating the conditions of child labor in the factories has already been passed.

Mrs. Trott who is a regular winter visitor to St. Augustine, Florida, told of the work being done by the Maria Jefferson Chapter, of that city. Although without its revolutionary historic spots the chapter has been most active in its work towards the preservation of "The City Gates" and "Fort Marion." At present it is starting a movement for the restoration of Fort Mantanzas (a historic spot of the State), has also contributed books on American history to the Public Library, recently presented the high school with a handsome American flag for their playground. One of the pleasant features of the Maria Jefferson Chapter is the admitting of all visiting Daughters during the winter months, upon a small fee as Associate Members. A privilege much enjoyed.

The Chautauqua Circle, Daughters of the American Revolution held its annual patriotic day exercises, July 25th. Through the courtesy of the institution, its patriotic exercises and reception was held in the Hall of Philosophy, which was prettily decorated with flags, green vines and flowers. The guest of honor was Mrs. William Cummings Story, New York State Regent; the other guests were Mrs. George Patterson, regent Patterson Chapter, Westfield, New York; Miss Brodhead, regent Jamestown Chapter, Jamestown, New York; Miss Prescott, regent Prescott Chapter, Fredonia, New York; Mrs. Joseph S. Wood, regent Bronx Chapter, Mount Vernon, New York, and Mrs. Charles North, treasurer Buffalo Chapter, Buffalo, New York.

The present officers of the Chautauqua Circle of the Daughters of the American Revolution are: president. Mrs. Eli Trott, Mount Vernon, New York; first vice-president, Mrs. John C. Martin, New York City; second vice-president, Mrs. S. Hamilton Day, Chautauqua, New York; recording secretary, Mrs. Grace Breeden, Jamestown, New York; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. G. Smith, Lawrence Park, Bronxville,

New York; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Coe, Cleveland, Ohio; historian, Mrs. N. B. Irwin, Chautauqua, New York.

The meetings of the Chautauqua Circle, Daughters of the American Revolution, are held each summer during the "Assembly Season." All Daughters visiting Chautauqua are most cordially invited to these meetings.—MARY A. TROTT.

Putnam Hill Chapter (Greenwich, Connecticut).—The chapter is rejoicing in the possession of their headquarters, Putnam Cottage, entirely for their own use. Hitherto the house has been rented, and while the regular meetings of the chapter have been held there for the past two years, we have been somewhat restricted in our occupancy. Since May the only occupant has been the caretaker's family and the "Cottage" is freely open to the public Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, from 10.30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Many visitors have availed themselves of the privilege. The house is well furnished with antiques, some of which are of historic value. From the records we learn that the house must have been standing in 1729, and it is our desire to obtain furnishings befitting that period.

Mr. Luke Vincent Lockwood, a connoisseur in antiques and a writer of prominence on this subject, is the president of Putnam House Association and we hope for valuable assistance from him in making the house a center of historical interest. In June a luncheon was served to the chapter. June 30, July 1, 2, 3, a grand Kirmess under the direction of Miss Lila Agnew Stewart, was given through the combined efforts of the Putnam Hill Chapter and the United Workers, and something over $1,100 was netted for each organization.

September twenty-sixth a reception and loan exhibition brought together about one hundred and fifty people in a pleasant social affair. The historian has sent out a circular letter within the past week asking for gifts or loans of furniture, china, books and papers of historical value, and we hope to largely increase our collection in the near future.

Two members have been removed by death during the past year. Mrs. Briggs had been one of our most earnest members, having given us many interesting antiques during her life and remembering the chapter in her will. Miss Marshall had been with us but a short time and her frailty prevented her from activity. She devoted much time to historical and genealogical research. Mrs. H. H. Adams, who had been our organizer and our beloved leader for eleven years, felt obliged to resign her office in April, and at the June luncheon a loving cup was presented to her as a small token of the appreciation and affection of her fellow members. Miss Jennie E. Kent has proved a worthy successor.—SUSAN H. MEAD, Historian.

Augusta Chapter (Augusta, Georgia).—The meeting, May, 1908, of the chapter at Meadow Garden was one of very great interest and was largely attended. Mrs. Joseph Cumming, the regent, gave an interesting and delightful account of the national congress in Washington.

She spoke of the various interests of the convention and especially of the reception at the White House in honor of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The President was especially complimentary in his expressions of welcome and cordialty to the "Daughters" of Georgia.

Among the pleasant incidents of the congress was the presentation to Mrs. Robert E. Park, the retiring vice-president general from Georgia, of a silver loving cup from the Georgia representatives. Mrs. Sage, of Atlanta, was elected to the office of vice-president general left vacant by the expiration of Mrs. Parks's term.

The Continental Hall, the beautiful and elegant building now in progress in Washington, which the Daughters of the American Revolution are erecting, was spoken of in glowing terms by Mrs. Cumming.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the reading of the following letters in regard to securing a picture of Mrs. Harriet Gould Jefferies to be hung on the walls of Meadow Garden. Mrs. Gardner, the corresponding secretary, read the letters in meeting.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 29, 1908.

Mrs. Harriet Gould Jefferies,
319 Broad Street,
Augusta, Ga.

DEAR MRS. JEFFERIES:

Not long since Mrs. Morgan suggested that a picture of yourself be placed in "Meadow Garden" as it was through your energy and interest alone, that "Meadow Garden" has been made to blossom again, in its picturesque comfort. This question was brought before the monthly meeting, on yesterday afternoon, and was received enthusiastically, and the corresponding secretary instructed to write at once with the sincere request that Mrs. Jefferies honor the society with a picture of herself, to be hung on the walls of "Meadow Garden"—a place recognized as one of the historic treasures of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution of America.

Hoping that our request will be granted,

Most sincerely,

ELIZABETH McLAWS GARDNER,
319 BROAD STREET,
Corresponding Secretary, D. A. R.

AUGUSTA, GA., May, 1908.

Mrs. W. Sanford Gardner,

Cor. Sec., D. A. R.

321 Greene Street, Augusta, Ga.

DEAR MRS. GARDNER and members of the Augusta Chapter, N. S. D. A. R.:

I am in receipt of your favor of April 29th informing me of the action taken by the Augusta Chapter on Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan's motion, viz: to present a picture of myself to be hung in historic "Meadow Garden." I esteem it a high honor that this motion should have been presented by Mrs. Morgan, the founder of the Augusta Chapter. She is an unusually gifted woman who has been signally honored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution Mrs. Morgan held the position of state regent for five years, and the equally exalted place of vice-president general for four years.

It will give me pleasure to comply with the request of Mrs. Morgan and of the members of the Augusta Chapter. "Meadow Garden" is one of the most sacred spots on earth to me—a place whose "acquisition and protection" have been the chief object and aim of my life since I became a member of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution on February 20th, 1892, sixteen years ago.

With high appreciation and regard, believe me,

Very sincerely yours,

HARRIET GOULD JEFFERIES,
Registrar Augusta Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., and
Honorary State Regent of Georgia.

The following interesting relics were given to Mrs. Harriet Gould Jefferies for historic "Meadow Garden" by Dr. B. Hammet Teague, and accepted by a vote of thanks from the chapter: A square tile made in England and during colonial times placed in the aisle of the old Dorchester meeting house near Summerville, South Carolina. This was the meeting house of the Congregational immigrants who came from Dorchester, Massachusetts. The colony did not thrive and many families moved to Georgia and a number of their descendants are the people of Liberty county. Two framed pictures of "John Greenwood, Dentist to George Washington." A photograph of South Carolina room Mount Vernon, Washington's family dining room. A photograph of Washington's Headquarters at Richmond, Virginia, during the Revolutionary war, now a depot for Confederate relics 1896. A photograph of the oldest house in New England at Guilford, Connecticut, built for the Rev. Henry Whitfield in 1640.

A letter from Dr. B. H. Teague requesting that Meadow Garden be open to the visitors in Augusta who will attend the convention of Georgia dentists in June, was read in meeting and the request cordially granted.

Chicago Chapter (Chicago, Illinois) celebrated Flag day with a large reception to meet distinguished national guests.

If the loyal men who fought the battles of the American Revolution, who fought for freedom of thought, liberty of action, everything which makes life worth living, could have stepped into the rooms of the Woman's Athletic Club June 15th, Flag day, they would have been proud of their descendants, as represented by the Chicago Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The chairman of the house committee, Mrs. Albert H. Dainty, had decorated the rooms most beautifully in recognition of the day with flags and draperies of the national colors, with ferns and potted plants. Is it just because it is your flag and my flag that the Stars and Stripes seem to gain in beauty with the years, or is it the loyalty and purity of which it is so eloquent? The remarks of the guests upon the effectiveness of the decorations, was an unconscious tribute to the appeal Old Glory makes to the heart, no matter where we see it. The tea tables which were up stairs were also decorated with flags, hundreds of small flags, in the center of each table imbedded in plats of green ferns. The regent, Mrs. J. Ellworth Gross, was the hostess of the day, assisted by the chairman of the social committee, Mrs. Louis K. Torbet, and the board of management. The guests of honor were Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and the greetings she received were a tribute not only to her but to her distinguished father, the president; Mrs. Donald McLean, our beloved president general, who is always welcome with her friendly word, and witty answer for every one; Mrs. Charles P. Taft and Miss Taft; Mrs. Nathan Spots; Mrs. H. C. Warmouth, wife of the ex-governor of Louisiana; Mrs. Myron Herrick; Mrs. Charles V. Hickox, state regent of Illinois; Mrs. Guthrie, state regent of Indiana; Madam Deneen, mother of Governor Deneen; Mrs. E. C. Duncan, of North Carolina, who were some of the distinguished guests, who were in the city at the national republican convention. The true spirit of Americanism was most apparent and it was an occasion when every thing was forgotten save the most generous hospitality. It was a splendid affair, one of the most successful the Daughters have ever given if the crowd, the enthusiasm of the guests, the staying quality of all who came, and the welcome to the guests of honor are to be considered in the viewpoint of success. The reception was a series of receptions, not just a reception. The series was marked by surges toward the receiving line, each surge meaning the arrival of a new guest of distinction.—MRS. FRANK B. ORR, Historian.

Lone Tree Chapter (Greensburg, Indiana) was organized April 6, 1907, with nineteen members and now at the end of the first year's work we have twenty-nine members. As we had no historical spot to name our chapter for, we called it the "Lone Tree," as on our court house tower, two hundred feet above the ground, there is growing a maple tree, eighteen feet high, which excite the wonder of the many visitors to our pretty city who usually carry home a souvenir of the "Lone Tree" on the tower that has withstood the elements of the weather for over thirty years. Our regent, Mrs. E. C. Stimson, appointed the following officers to assist her in the work: Vice-regent, Mrs. Lizzie W. Gurner; secretary, Miss Emma Donnell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Pearl K. Woodfield; treasurer, Mrs. Eliza T. Wolverton; registrar, Miss Elizabeth Shirk; historian, Miss Sue Montgomery.

The enthusiasm with which the chapter started out has not abated in the least. We meet at the home of some member the first Monday of every month, beginning in October and ending in July. The papers read at each meeting, except the first and last, were prior to the Revolution, such as "Original Settlers of the Colonies;" "Governmental Affairs of the Colonies;" "Colonial Social Customs;" "Colonial Business Customs;" "Literature and the Press of the Colonies;" "Religious and Educational Affairs of the Colonies;" "Causes that Led to the Revolution." The first paper was a "History of the Daughters of the American Revolution" and the last paper "Sketch of John Paul Jones."

On account of sickness we did not have our "open meeting" February 22, so sent $10 to Continental Hall. We gave a flag to the city library which was to be presented June 14th, Flag day, but was postponed to July 4th, and proved to be a very interesting occasion. Our regent presented the flag to the library in a few timely remarks with responses by T. E. Davidson, member of the library board, and Mr. Horace Skillman, who spoke for the city mayor. Mrs. Winona Drewert, in her pleasing way, sang "Star Spangled Banner." While the flag was being unfurled the chapter gave a salute and the Grand Army of the Republic post that was present gave hearty cheers. I do not think there were any members of the chapter present but what was proud that they were able to be members of such an organization. The AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE goes into ten families of the chapter and as new members come in we hope to have the number increased. It had been suggested that we trace up where any Revolutionary soldier had been buried in this (Decatur) county and place a marker on their graves. We have been successful in finding where twenty-two have been buried throughout the county and Lone Tree Chapter expects to take one day in autos and visit those graves and afterward it will be our work or part of it to see that those graves are marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution.—SUE M. MONTGOMERY, Historian.

Betty Washington Chapter (Lawrence, Kansas).—Our chapter is in a prosperous condition, numbering between fifty and sixty members with several applications on hand. The chapter is now in its twelfth year of existence. During the past year we have gained ten new members, death has claimed one, and one resigned. In February a little play was given under the auspices of the chapter, entitled "Juvenile Minstrels." This affair was a success and deserves great credit to the committee in charge. It netted quite a nice sum, which was contributed to the Continental Hall fund. Later in the season a charity ball was given, which proved very popular with the people and added no small amount to our treasury. The proceeds of this was used to hire a nurse for one of our members who had been an invalid for years, but death has ended her sufferings.

Our meetings are held the third Saturday in each month, carrying out a program prepared by the committee. During July and August we have taken a vacation, but will open again in September and hope to do some good work on broader lines.—JULIA H. GILMORE, Historian.

Catherine Schuyler Chapter (Allegany County, New York).—Marking the one spot in Allegany county which played an important part in the Revolution, namely, the site of the old Indian Council House near Caneadea, and dedicated to the memory and life of the great and brave man, Mayor Moses Van Campen, August 25, 1908, unveiled with appropriate exercises a large boulder bearing a bronze plate with the following inscription:

"Here in 1782
Major Moses Van Campen
A Soldier of the Revolution
Captured by the Senecas
Keepers of the Western Door of
The Iroquois Confederacy
Ran the Gauntlet
Thirty Rods West to Their Ancient Council House
Which is Now Preserved in Letchworth Park.

This Boulder Was Placed by
The Catherine Schuyler Chapter
N. S. D. A. R., 1908."

The Catherine Schuyler Chapter is to be congratulated upon the success of its exercises and especially is credit due to Mrs. Frank Sullivan Smith, of Angelica, who is largely responsible for the placing of the boulder and the success of the work, and to Mrs. Hamilton Ward, of Belmont, the beloved regent of the local chapter, and to the Hon. William P. Letchworth, of Portage. Following the program the guests enjoyed a picnic luncheon under the large apple trees on the farm of Thomas Dole, where the exercises were held.

A neat platform for the speakers had been erected and this was tastefully decorated with American flags and banners and Indian relics on the sides and attractive rugs on the floor. Seated on the platform were the honored regent, Mrs. Hamilton Ward, presiding, Mrs. Frank Sullivan Smith, of Angelica, the honorary vice-regent of the Catherine Schuyler Chapter for life, and Miss S. S. Jennings, the chairman of the boulder committee. The exercises were opened with an invocation by Rev. John Ward after which "America" was sung and then Mrs. Ward, in her always gracious manner, sounded the keynote of the meeting and presented Miss Jennings. In behalf of the boulder committee, Miss Jennings, its chairman, presented the boulder to the society. Mrs. Frank Sullivan Smith in accepting the boulder for the Catherine Schuyler Chapter said, in part:

"By direction of the organizer of the Catherine Schuyler Chapter, who has been, and still is, our beloved Regent, and on behalf of my fellow members of the chapter, I am delegated to accept this boulder in their name. We thank you, Madam Chairman, for the problems you have solved in bringing this to a successful issue. We are grateful to Mr. I. Letchworth, Mr. Minard and all the members of the Chapter and others who have aided in marking this historic place in our county. The bronze promises to be lasting, so may be the friendships formed here. The stone has endured for many ages but more enduring still we hope will be the seeds of patriotism, civic pride, hope and love which we leave in the hearts of those who follow after us."

The boulder was then unveiled by the pretty little Misses Frances Ely, of Belmont, and Freda Keeney, of Belvidere. Miss Catherine Schuyler Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rice, who was named after the Catherine Schuyler Chapter, was to have participated in the unveiling, but unfortunately was not well. The immense boulder was covered with a large American flag and when this was pulled from the rock it was hoisted on a flagstaff.

Then came the principal address of the day, that of John S. Minard, who is always interesting. Mr. Minard's topic was "Scenes in Ga-O-ya-de-O, the Council House, and Major Van Campen."

Among other things Mr. Minard said:

"Madam Regent and Ladies of the Catherine Schuyler Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution: With very becoming ceremony you have unveiled a boulder and tablet which will for long years to come mark the scene of an interesting and exciting experience in the career of a valiant border man, daring scout, and distinguished soldier of the Revolution. And moreover, a man of much note as a civilian; one of the very few first of our country's pioneers; a surveyor of no mean ability, and extensive practice; one who as a member of our first court, charged our first two grand juries, and held important appointive and elective positions.

"He was one of the six who founded the First Presbyterian Church in the county; and for some years was its ruling elder. His religion was of the practical, matter of fact, sturdy variety, so fittingly typified by this marker."

Interest in this occasion is greatly intensified by the fact, that the incident alluded to by the marker, occurred, and we assembled at this moment, clearly within the limits of an ancient Indian village which was one of the most important of the Chief Towns of the Senecas, the most powerful and warlike of the Six Nations which composed that wonderful "Iroquois Confederacy," or "League of the Iroquois," which has challenged the attention, and won the admiration of historians, who have given its people post humous fame, by calling them "The Romans of the West."

The power of the Confederacy was felt and dreaded, from the Hudson to the Mississippi, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

At the beginning of the Revolution Ga-o-za-de-o, where we now are, was, and for some time had been, the "Western Door" of the "Long House" of the League. At this place their chiefs were required to reside.

With the exception of the Oneidas and part of the Tuscaroras, the Six Nations espoused the cause of Great Britain.

Very naturally it came about that Ga-o-za-de-o was a sort of a military post, a center from which operations proceeded, a rendezvous for recruits, a place of mobilization, for descent upon the frontier towns of New York and Pennsylvania.

Hon. Frank Sullivan Smith, of New York City, and Angelica, delivered an unusually fine address on "The Victories of Peace." Mr. Smith was followed by Rev. John W. Sanborn, who spoke on "The Legends of the Senecas." District Attorney Joseph F. Rice, of Friendship, made a happy and brief address, congratulating the women on the success of their undertaking, and thanking them in behalf of the county for their patriotism. After Mr. Rice, Judge McLennan, of Syracuse, had said a few words in his usual impressive manner, John B. Church gave a few reminiscences of the life of Major Moses Van Campen and this concluded the program.

Owahgena Chapter (Cazenovia, New York).—Owahgena Chapter were entertained by the regent, Mrs. Augustus P. Clarke. Thirty-two were present. The program was opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," sung by Miss Elizabeth Jackson, the members joining in the chorus. Mrs. Clarke, the recently elected regent, in her address of welcome, referred to the able work of her predecessors, Miss Dows and Mrs. Charles Stebbins, and asked the support of the chapter in the new work to be undertaken.

The secretary's report was read by Miss Rose, and Mrs. Hatch, the treasurer, reported fifty dollars given to the Continental Hall fund this year. Mrs. Charles Stebbins stated that the Chapter has given two hundred dollars in all for this purpose. Mrs. Eigabroadt gave the registrar's report. At the suggestion of the regent, the chapter voted to take two scholarships of ten dollars each for the education of the children of mountain whites in the south. Mrs. E. G. Beckwith surprised the chapter by adding a third scholarship, and also spoke briefly of the work of Mrs. Guillot, the president of the Southern Industrial Educational Association, of which Mrs. Lowrie Bell is corresponding secretary.

The music on the program was entirely American, and Miss Jackson sang "The Year's at the Spring," set to music by Mrs. Beach, of Boston. She was in fine voice and sang admirably.

An interesting account of early Cazenovia was given by Mrs. Chas. S. Fairchilds, in which she spoke of the remains of the old Indian fort, the houses that were originally built at the foot of the lake, the building of Lorenzo, the Indian student in the seminary, the slaves in Colonel Lincklaen's household and many other matters. A "Revolutionary Soldier's Lullaby," originally in the possession of Col. Varick, one of Washington's aide-de-camps, and preserved in the family of Mrs. Charles S. Fairchild, was sung by Miss Sophie Clarke. The song is a charming one and was sung with great expression.

Miss Margaret Stebbins followed with a fine talk on the subject of "The Historic Hudson," referring to its discovery, early settlers, and to various points conspicuous in the Revolutionary war. Mrs. Eigabroadt reported the arduous work of the committee so far accomplished in locating the graves of many Revolutionary soldiers in this county, and the program was concluded by several Indian songs, sung in the original by Miss Sophie Clarke. These songs were given her by Miss Frances Densmore, now collecting new songs and material for the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. The "Omaha Prayer," usually sung by a thousand warriors, was beautifully sung by Miss Clarke with full voice and all were most interesting and unusual.

The house was prettily decorated with flags and flowers. The centerpiece in the dining room was an old-fashioned bouquet of red poppies, white lilies and blue lupin, and the favors were of Revolutionary characters. The china used were heirlooms in the regent's family.

Mecklenburg Chapter (Charlotte, North Carolina).—The charter takes its name from the historic old county of Mecklenburg, North Carolina, which was the first to declare independence of Great Britain and the spirit of patriotism that animated our sires is manifested afresh by the zeal and enthusiasm shown by the members of this chapter in carrying on the work in which we are enlisted.

Numerically the largest chapter in the state, our apportionment in consequence exceeded all others, and the sum given by us for the erection of the North Carolina column in Continental Hall amounted to nearly one-third of that contributed by the whole state.

To meet this apportionment, special efforts made by the Daughters have been crowned with success.

September 26, 1907, being the tenth anniversary of the birthday of the chapter, a silver tea was given, where the sum of twenty-five dollars was contributed towards the fund. Next "Living Pictures" from Tennyson's "Portraits of Fair Women" was produced. This was in every sense a success and forty dollars was added to the treasury.

Lastly, a Kermis was held, continuing several days, a production which elicited the highest commendation from the large audience in attendance.

Too much praise cannot be given to the ladies who by their faithfulness and devotion to the work brought it to such a successful finish. It is pleasant to know that their reward was the net sum of four hundred dollars, of which forty-two dollars and five cents was a special donation to the fund.

These amounts, coupled with that previously paid in, covers the chapter's apportionment.

The latest work of the chapter was the raising of a fund for the purchase of flags to be presented to the new, magnificent cruiser North Carolina. An invitation was extended to the other chapters of the state to unite with us in this undertaking. Several of them responded with liberal contributions. Many members of our own chapter made special contributions to the fund. In all one hundred and thirty dollars was raised with which two flags were purchased, one of silk to be used on ceremonial occasions, and the other of bunting to be hung at the mast head. The presentation of these flags by our state regent was a notable event. As a full account of the ceremonies was given by the press, further mention of them will be omitted here.

Our eleventh year of life as a chapter is drawing to its close. Assuredly we can look back with pride on the work accomplished. Let us hope that the ushering in of the new years may ever find us ready to meet the obligations that may arise, and patriotism be the mainspring of all our endeavors.—ELIZABETH PETTIT HUNTER, Historian.

Washington Court House Chapter (Washington Court House, Ohio) was organized September 22, 1898, with twenty charter members, Miss Florence Ogle, regent. The chapter received its charter October 25, 1898. We have now sixty members. One of our charter members, Mrs. Annie Ford Purcell, has withdrawn that she may become the founder of a chapter in Boise City, Idaho.

Our regular meetings occur on the last Monday of each month, at two-thirty o'clock, from September to May, except February twenty-second. This meeting is held in the evening of the twenty-second. We invite our friends, have a special program and observe Washington's birthday in the proper manner.

Revolutionary history has been the subject for papers, readings and discussions, which has brought vividly to mind at how great a sacrifice our independence was purchased.

The chapter has contributed liberally to the public library.

Through the efforts of the Daughters we have located the graves of three Revolutionary soldiers; which we always decorate on Memorial day.

The one dark spot in our past year's history was the loss by death of one of our beloved members, Mrs. Lina Parrett Welton, who died March 15, 1908.

Our chapter will soon reach the tenth anniversary—during that time we have lost two members by death. The first was Mrs. Ida Patton Lanun, a charter member, who died December 23, 1900.

Our year's work closes with Flag day celebration, June 14. For the past two years Col. B. H. Millikan has hospitably entertained the Daughters and their children on Flag day, in honor of his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Westerfield, of New Orleans, who is a member of the chapter.

The lovely grounds and perfect summer day all lent themselves to the making of a most delightful affair last June. A charming musical program was rendered, a reading "The Restoration of the House of Francis Scott Keys," was listened to with interest. After the program an elaborate summer collation was served, and a tiny souvenir flag presented to each guest. Thus we felt Flag day had been observed in a most suitable manner.—FANNIE PERSINGER.

Bellefonte Chapter (Bellefonte, Pennsylvania).—Following the business to be attended to came the literary and social features of the program according to the suggestions of the year book.

The chapter gave two prizes to each of the Bellefonte Academy and public schools. By invitation one of the prize winners of the Academy read his essay to the Daughters at one of their meetings. Because of the merit of the Academy essays Mrs. Hastings made a third prize possible.

Beside contributing to the maintenance of the Daughters of the American Revolution room in the Bellefonte hospital the chapter erected and furnished a solarium for the same. A brass tablet with black trimmings is placed in the latter and bears this inscription:

"This Solarium is dedicated to the Relief of Suffering Humanity by the Bellefonte Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution."

The chapter sent money and a basket containing generous donations to the "Real Daughter," Mrs. Rishel, at Christmas time, and later, on her birthday, presented to her a Daughters of the American Revolution pin.

Mrs. Roger's gift of a gavel made from wood from Potter's Fort, is appreciated by the members of the chapter.

Washington's birthday was observed this year by holding an evening reception in the Fraternity House of the historic Academy. Flags, pictures and relics formed the decorations. The Daughters wore small flags and bunches of cherries. The orchestra furnished the music of the evening and led the singing of the national hymns. Invitations were issued to all soldiers, to the historical societies, and also to friends of the Daughters. The veterans attended in a body and were greeted with the soldier's salute by the reception committee.

The chapter appreciated the presence of the Pennsylvania state regent, Mrs. Perley, at one of its meetings.

The full quota of lineage books and the new directory are in charge of the historian.

The chapter and individual members are subscribers to the AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

It was the pleasure of the chapter this year to purchase a number of flags of the Revolutionary design to be used in marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in and around this vicinity.

Fourteen members attended the state conference held in Williamsport last October.

June 14, 1908, fell upon Sunday, so the Daughters decided to observe Flag day and the Sabbath in a manner fitting to both occasions. The services of the morning were held in the Presbyterian Church in Bellefonte and were conducted by the Rev. Allison Platts, Ph. D., pastor of the church. The interior of the church had been elaborately decorated on the preceding day in American flags and flowers and presented a memorable picture. Twenty-four Daughters were present at the service and felt that the day was beautifully spent in that they derived both the pleasure and benefit from the most able and uplifting sermon delivered by Dr. Platts.

The chapter recognizes the honor bestowed upon it by the appointment of two of its members to important lines of work. Mrs. Hastings is a member of the national committee on historical spots, and Miss Overton a member of the Pennsylvania committee on patriotic education.

The chapter received thirteen copies of the state historian's annual report and one complimentary copy sent to the regent.

The invitation to the chapter to attend Miss McLean's wedding was officially recognized.

The new year book is attractive and reflects great credit upon the program committee.—HELEN E. CANFIELD OVERTON, Regent.

Flag House Chapter (Frankford, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania).—On Saturday afternoon, September 12th, the Flag House Chapter gave a reception in the place of its regular meeting which was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. T. Worcester Worrell. The occasion was the loan by Mr. Oliver Randolph Parry, of Philadelphia, of a piece of the original flooring taken from the front room of the Betsy Ross house, 239 Arch street, during repairs, and is the only piece preserved according to the affidavit of Mrs. Mund, who occupied the house at the time.

The relic which reposes in a heavy wooden frame is about two feet long, seven inches wide and two inches thick. The inner edge of the frame is painted red and the outer edge of the plank red and blue to form a border of our national colors. On the face of the board are old wood cuts of the house and of Betsy Ross with the committee, together with a printed account of the history of the flag making which are said by newspaper men to be about sixty years old. This conclusively refutes the statement that the story Betsy Ross making the first flag is of recent date.

During the reception this priceless relic, draped with the Stars and Stripes, was the center of attraction though many other historic mementoes were exhibited. Among the collection were a piece of Christ Church steeple saved after the recent fire; linen belonging to Peggy Shippen; old visiting cards, Murat's among the number; the platter upon which ham was served at the time of Lafayette's reception in Frankford; china brought from England in 1682 and some signatures of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. Those whom the chapter entertained were Mr. Parry, the owner of the historic board; Mr. Charles W. Smith, who instigated the movement to preserve the Betsy Ross house; Mrs. Susan Turner, ninety years old, who gave interesting reminiscences of her aunt, Mrs. Ross; members of the Daughters of the American Revolution; of the Sons of the Revolution; of the Frankford Historical Society and friends.—EDNA RANDOLPH WORRELL, Corresponding Secretary.

Cowpens Chapter (Spartanburg, South Carolina).—May 15, 1908, was a day long to be remembered, the occasion being the unveiling of a splendid monument to the memory of Joshua Hawkins, a Revolutionary soldier whose grave is in the churchyard of Mt. Zion, a Baptist Church, about eight miles from Spartanburg, South Carolina. The weather was ideal and it is estimated that at least 2,500 people were present. The preliminary exercises were held in the church and were most interesting, interspersed by excellent music. Mr. P. E. Chapman gave first a little sketch of Joshua Hawkins whose home had been in that neighborhood. When the call came for soldiers to stand and fight in defense of the country he was one of the first to respond. He joined the army in the north and was in the engagement at Brandywine. There he was wounded in one leg, but crouched down when unable to stand and continued to load and fire. Then he was wounded in one arm and his musket fell to the ground. He was captured by the enemy, and when the surgeons said to him that his leg would have to be amputated he told them that no British surgeons could cut off his leg. He recovered and returned home. When the call came again after the downfall of Charleston, he was ready with his musket and was at several of the skirmishes in this state, and at King's Mountain and Cowpens. After the war he settled down on his farm known to-day as the Joshua Hawkins' place, and there lived till 1832 when he passed away. He requested that two of his neighbors cut the ball from his leg before he was buried for while he carried British lead in him during life he did not want to be buried with it in his body. The ball was cut out and preserved for years and finally sent to some of the relatives in Georgia. When Rev. J. G. Landrum preached his funeral sermon in 1832 he exhibited the ball at the service. Mrs. Mary McDowell, now living in her 86th year, was present at the burial and remembers that he was buried with the honors of war. Judge C. M. Chapman, who deserves credit for the movement to get up this monument, then gave a history of the "Colonial Flag" and in a dramatic way which captured the audience repeated Richard Henry Stoddard's poem, "When That Old Flag Was New." Just over his head was stretched the old colonial flag, so that all could see it. It was tattered and torn and faded but the stars and stripes were there. Rev. J. D. Bailey, orator of the day, was introduced and gave an admirable address. He stated that he did not believe in the worship of ancestors and heroes but in these busy bustling days there was not half attention given to our past history and achievements and that this generation was wanting in that reverential respect due to the men and women of the past, who by labors, sacrifices and death had made the present possible. People honored themselves and their age when they paid due and deserving honors to the heroes of the past. He graphically described conditions in the south in 1780, and traced events which finally led to the victory at King's Mountain, battle of Cowpens, and then Yorktown. At the conclusion of his address, the immense audience passed out of the church and gathered around the draped monument, which was unveiled by Joshua Hawkins and Nellie Hawkins, children of W. D. Hawkins, a grandson of the Revolutionary hero. The Hampton Guards fired a salute, and the grave was beautifully decorated with flowers and magnolia wreaths by the members of Cowpens Chapter. Those present were, Mrs. Stanyame Wilson, Mrs. L. D. Fleming, Mrs. T. R. Trimmier, Mrs. J. A. Gamewell, Mrs. J. B. Cleveland, Mrs. G. W. Nicholls, Mrs. Lizzie Watkins, Mrs. H. B. Carlisle, Mrs. W. E. Burnett, Mrs. D. C. Correll, Miss Lizzie Cleveland, Mrs. R. K. Carson, of Cowpens Chapter, and Mrs. J. W. Simpson, Mrs. Belton Siles and Miss Gladys Fleming of Kate Barry Chapter. The monument is a most imposing one, and bears upon the face the following inscription:

"Here lies Joshua Hawkins (a hero of the Revolution). Born 1750. Died 1832. He lived and fought to the motto of 'Liberty or Death.' Erected by Relatives, Patriotic Citizens and Cowpens Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution."

Upon the reverse side are these words:

"Sleep, gallant hero, till the notes of Gabriel's trump shall thrill and echo throughout eternal space, when thou wilt behold a greater battle than Brandywine, when the platform of Heaven will be crowded in dazzling array with the armies of the King of Hosts preparing to descend on the winged clouds of the air, 'mid meteors and flashing scintillation to the Judgment seat. May you be gathered with Washington and La Fayette around the eternal throne of God."

In large letters graven on the stone are the names of the battles in which Joshua Hawkins bore such a gallant part, Brandywine, King's Mountain, Cowpens. Upon the conclusion of the exercises the crowd dispersed into little groups under the grand old oaks surrounding Mount Zion and enjoyed fully a delightful picnic dinner. It was a memorable day for Cowpens Chapter and we feel inspired to go forth and accomplish other worthy memorials to the heroic dead.—KATE B. CARSON, Historian.

STATE REGENTS' REPORTS

NEW MEXICO.

Madam President General and Members of the Seventeenth Continental Congress: We have increased in general membership during the past year, but, unfortunately not in number of Chapters, notwithstanding strong efforts in that direction, but I confidently expect ere many months, to be able to report the formation of a chapter at Carlsbad.

The Stephen Watts Kearny Chapter, Santa Fe, has gained several new members during the past year, and there is a prospect of half a dozen more joining this chapter in the near future. It has devoted its energies principally toward increasing its library, and, already has many historical and genealogical reference books. It has purchased dishes, white, with a deep blue border, for its Chapter room, glasses with the Society's insignia, and given $10 to Continental Hall fund.

Mrs. Adelbert Fenyess, of Pasadena, California, one of this chapter's earliest members has presented a large and handsome flag, which adorns the attractive room in the ancient Governor's Palace, which, as it is in the capital city, is the headquarters for all of the New Mexico Daughters of the American Revolution.

Jacob Bennett Chapter, Silver City: This chapter has been working throughout the year with well attended meetings and much interest in all that has come before it. It has given frequent entertainments. On Thanksgiving Day its annual children's dancing party proved such a success that by request it was repeated on New Year's Day.

A Boston Tea Party was given on the 16th of December when all present appeared with powdered hair, kerchiefs and knitting; and the anniversary of Washington's wedding day was celebrated with a fancy dress ball.

The chapter meets the first Saturday in each month for its regular meeting, and on the third Saturday it holds a social meeting. This program is only varied when there is some anniversary in the month. On Lincoln's birthday an excellent paper, suitable to the occasion, was read by one of its members, Miss Frances Elizabeth Nichols. A member of the Atlantic City Chapter, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, has very kindly given two donations toward the Park; and Miss Eleanor Morse, of the Betty Washington Chapter, Lawrence, Kansas, has also assisted in this work. On June 1, 1907, Mrs. Anna Ross Bennett closed her eyes to the scenes of earth and passed to the Great Unknown. She was one of the noblest of God's children and beloved by all who knew her. Would there were more in this world like her.

The chapter claims thirty-seven members, two of its members having been transferred last year to chapters in the east.

Mrs. M. Annette Ford Kenyon has joined this chapter, through a transfer from the Society at large. The alternates to the regent, elected, are Mrs. Fannie I. B. Barnes and Mrs. Mary Eugenia Stevens Hudson.

The object during the past year, aside from the general good of the chapter, has been the improvement of the Park owned by the chapter, which is for the benefit of the city. It has now over two hundred trees, many shrubs, and plants, and grass, a handsome iron fence, a fountain-basin and comfortable benches for seats. It is already a credit to the place and an object of great pride to its members, one of whom, Mrs. Genevieve Butler Lyons, of Mangus Springs, New Mexico, having not only contributed many trees and shrubs from her own premises toward the Park, has sent an order to Boston for additional plants and shrubs. There have been several additions to the chapter and application papers are now in Washington for others.

Many in the chapter wear the Insignia and are subscribers to the AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE. This chapter also sent a donation to Continental Hall fund.

Lew Wallace Chapter, Albuquerque: This chapter has been actively engaged during the past year attending to its social as well as business duties.

Washington's birthday was appropriately and beautifully observed, a reception being held at Castle Huning.

The principal work of the chapter, however, has been the inauguration in Bernalillo county of a circulating library for the use of rural schools. It started with seventy-five carefully selected volumes, including works of history, adventure, nature study, travel, fairy tales, juvenile fiction and picture books for the youngest children; the books chosen have been those best adapted to the needs of these schools. A special effort has been made to make the library an efficient aid in the teaching of English, and a constant encouragement to both teachers and pupils.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY C. PRINCE,
State Regent for New Mexico.

The bill did not come to vote, however, at that time and the committee is now sending out a pamphlet urging the importance of this measure in the next year's campaign.

The secretary of the Children of the American Revolution regrets that an error was made in her report of the May meeting of the Board of Management, and desires to correct the item as published on page 712 of the September number of the Magazine, giving the appointment of State Director for New York to Mrs. Earnest L. Wyckoff, of Elmira, instead of the Presidency of the General Sullivan Society, of that city.

Mrs. Nellis M. Rich, of Syracuse, is still the State Director for New York, an office which she fills with ability.

Mrs. Nellis M. Rich, regent of Onondaga Chapter, Syracuse, New York, sends us the following cheering message: "If the Daughters—each and every one of them—would only appreciate how much help they might receive from having the MAGAZINE, it would be on the table of every one of them. Its contents keep one in touch with the work of all chapters, also very much information that is not found elsewhere."

---

Mrs. Henry Clay Valentine, of Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, sends us the following kind words: "The MAGAZINE received and each one seems better than the last. I read it from cover to cover. My best congratulations for the success you have made of it."

IN MEMORIAM

MISS ELIZABETH ROGERS HARLEY, one of the brightest and most popular young ladies of Hammonton, Virginia, died on September 28, 1908. Miss Harley had long been an active member of the St. Marks Episcopal Church and was also a member of Kate Aylesford Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

MRS. FANNIE GILBERT MEEKER, wife of Ellis R. Meeker. Died September 28, 1908. The Boudinot Chapter, Elizabeth, New Jersey, records her death with much sorrow. She was a loved member, enthusiastic for its advancement and loyal to all its interests.

MRS. MARTHA TELFAIR HERRICK, Martha Washington Chapter, Sioux City, Iowa, September 25, 1908. Mrs. Herrick was one of the early members of the chapter, bright and cheerful, faithful in performance of all duties, she will be greatly missed.

MISS KATE B. SAX, Dial Rock Chapter, Pittston, Pennsylvania, died April 15, 1908, at her home in West Pittston. Her loss will be increasingly felt, as our work calls for capable and willing brain and hand. She was wise in council, ready in action, genial by nature and of strong Christian spirit and principle.

MISS VIOLA HOUSE, of Alloway, member of Oak Tree Chapter, Salem, N. J., entered eternal life, August 19, 1908.

"Her bright smile haunts us still!"

MISS MARGARET TAYLOR, Pine Bluff Chapter, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, died June 15, 1908, after great suffering bravely borne. She was a descendant of the Taylors of Virginia and the Goodloes of North Carolina. The chapter sent a floral star, with the national colors and a beautiful inscription.

MR. GEORGE WASHINGTON HOLLAND, a prominent lawyer and a well known traveler, died at Saratoga Springs, August 5, 1908. Mr. Holland was deeply interested in all good works, giving liberally of his means for charity and for the support of the church. He was a Grand Army man. Mrs. Holland, who survives him, is a member at large of the Daughters of the American Revolution and makes her home in New York City.

BOOK NOTES

Two interesting pamphlets have come to the editor's desk. Both are from the pen of Mrs. Harriet McIntyre Foster of the Caroline Scott Harrison Chapter, of Indianapolis. One of these pamphlets is a brief but admirably arranged genealogy of "Lieutenant David Nelson and his Descendants," Mrs. Foster herself being one of his descendants. The book is illustrated with many interesting and beautiful pictures of houses and local scenes connected with the name of Nelson and allied families. It also contains a number of family portraits. It is not for sale, but is prepared especially for members of the clan. The other pamphlet is a sketch that was written at the request of the regent to commemorate the fourteenth anniversary of the organization of the Caroline Scott Harrison Chapter, and, of course, for such an occasion it was impossible to use a long biography. It is a beautiful tribute to the beloved first president general and would be interesting to every Daughter. The frontispiece is a very good portrait of Mrs. Harrison. This booklet will be sold for the benefit of the fund of the Caroline Scott Harrison Memorial House at Indianapolis. The price by mail is 30 cents and the book may be obtained by addressing Mrs. R. O. Hawkins, 26 The Blacherne, Indianapolis, Ind.

---

Rainier Chapter of Seattle, Washington, have issued their year book tastefully gotten up and tied with the chapter color, yellow. On the first page appears a reproduction of "Old Glory," printed in colors and toasted beneath in an appropriate quotation. The chapter motto for the year is: "Be just and fear not; let all the ends thou aimest at be thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's."

The work for the year, as outlined, is varied and follows special anniversaries. The regent is Mrs. Eliza Ferry Leary.

Moline Chapter, Moline, Illinois, have issued a year book which has as a frontispiece the chapter's pride, the monument erected by them on Campbell's Island. A feature of many of the chapter meetings is called "Thimbles," and we have no doubt they are busy thimbles. One meeting is devoted to a program especially for children arranged by Miss Lucy D. Evans. In addition to this there are readings and historical papers, music, and social features. It is a good program. The chapter regent is Mrs. William Butterworth.

At the April meeting of the National Board of Management, Daughters of the American Revolution, the following motion was unanimously passed:

"Resolved, That the following notice be inserted in the AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE: 'Chapters shall send to headquarters, D. A. R., 902 F Street, Washington, D. C., notice of deaths, resignations, marriages and all changes of address and list of officers.'"

NATIONAL BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, N. S. D. A. R.

WEDNESDAY, June 3, 1908

The monthly meeting of the National Board of Management was held on Wednesday, June 3, 1908, at Daughters of the American Revolution headquarters, 902 F Street, Washington, District of Columbia.

The meeting was called to order Wednesday morning by the President General, Mrs. Donald McLean.

After prayer by the Chaplain General the roll call was made. Members present: Mrs. McLean, President General; Mrs. Main, Vice-President General in Charge of Organization of Chapters; Mrs. Putnam, New Jersey; Mrs. Mussey, District of Columbia; Mrs. Noble, Chaplain General; Mrs. Draper, Registrar General; Mrs. Earnest, Corresponding Secretary General; Mrs. Swormstedt, Treasurer General; Mrs. Gadsby, Historian General; Mrs. Bowron, Assistant Historian General; Miss Pierce, Recording Secretary General. State Regents: Mrs. Talbot, Arizona; Mrs. McNeil, Colorado; Mrs. Brayton, Michigan; Miss Lake, Iowa; Mrs. Lippitt, Rhode Island; Mrs. Story, New York; Mrs. Perley, Pennsylvania. State Vice-Regents: Miss Harnit, Ohio, and Mrs. Harper, Virginia. The President General announced reports received from Mrs. Smoot, Vice-President General of Virginia.

The Minutes of the previous meeting were read, corrected and approved by the Board.

The President General announced the death of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Mead, late member of the Norwalk Chapter of Connecticut; also the death of Mr. Clarence Postley, the husband of Mrs. Postley, Regent of the International Chapter, Europe, and stated that one of Mr. Postley's last acts was the signing of a check of five hundred dollars for Memorial Continental Hall.

Mrs. Noble moved: That a resolution of sympathy be sent from our Board to the family of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Mead, upon her death.

Seconded by Mrs. Main. Motion carried.

Mrs. Main moved: That a resolution of sympathy from the National Board of Management be sent to Mrs. Clarence Postley on account of the death of her husband.

Seconded by Mrs. Earnest. Motion carried.

At the request of the President General, all present arose in token of sympathy and respect.

The President General addressed the Board as follows: There is very little that I, your President General, will report, except during the meeting, as different business points come up and it is necessary to take action upon them. I can only say that during the past six weeks I have developed from what might be a fairly well-informed woman to an absolute expert in all building materials. I have consulted almost daily with our architect, and there have been a large number of builders and contractors approaching us on the subject of the building of the Hall,—so you see this project arouses interest in the sordid business world. The builders tell me that this hall being erected by the women of the country will be a wide advertisement; so that many representatives of firms have journeyed to New York City to see me. When they came, I gave them the benefit of the expert knowledge I had gained, and then—I sent them to the architect. No definite decision has been reached, although certain figures have been submitted.

We will now proceed to the reports of Officers and will hear the report of the Recording Secretary General. I will, however, state first that in connection with the laying of the corner-stone of the Bureau of American Republics, the Chair was absent too many miles away to accept the invitation to be present, but wrote the Secretary of State, Mr. Root, asking if he desired the use of the Hall, in case of inclement weather; for I felt sure that every member of the Society would approve of this all over the country. Of course, as you are aware, it proved to be a beautiful day, so it was not necessary to accept the offer. But in the reply I received from Mr. Root he took occasion to express his gratification that we were proceeding with the completion of Memorial Continental Hall. I felt that we could have no higher commendation. I also felt it an honor that the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and General Bell, of the Army, should have requested your President General to appoint a committee to be present at the ceremonies incident to the removal of General Clinton's remains. I appointed a committee in New York also for the Clinton obsequies, and the New York laurel wreath, identical with the one we presented here in Washington, I sent to Kingston with the message that the Kingston Daughters of the American Revolution should represent the Society there. So I think our organization was represented throughout the entire route.

I paid a most delightful visit to the "Daughters" of Chattanooga, Tennessee, and was entertained by the Chapter there and by Mrs. Chamberlain, Vice-President General, in the most charming manner; also had the pleasure of visiting New Jersey, attending the spring meeting at Perth Amboy.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY GENERAL: Madam President General and Members of the National Board of Management: As the regular reports of Officers were not required at the special meetings preceding and following the Continental Congress this is the first report from this office since the close of the Seventeenth Continental Congress. I would therefore state that all the instructions given by the Congress have been attended to and the various letters and communications ordered by that body were properly transmitted.

The commissions for the newly elected Vice-Presidents General have been engrossed and as soon as the required signatures are obtained, they will be issued. Shortly after the adjournment of the Congress the new Officers' list was sent to the AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE from this department, pending the preparation of the printed lists. As usual, the Editor of the Magazine was furnished with the Minutes of the Congress, as presented in the daily reports read to that body, and all other data required to enable her to prepare the condensed report, or synopsis, of the Congress which is always published previous to the preparation of the full stenographic report.

Letters received the past month show the deep interest taken in the proceedings, and from Miss Berry, foundress of the Industrial School in Georgia, come warm expressions of gratitude for all that the Seventeenth Continental Congress did to aid her in the great work of education and uplifting of the poor mountain youth of the South.

At the close of the special meeting of the Board, April 27th, the action taken then bearing on the different departments of the office were sent to the respective officers, and all letters written, as instructed.

Number of applications signed, 715; notification cards, 715; certificates of membership, 890; number of letters and postals written, 130.

I have regrets for this meeting of the Board from the following: Mrs. Sage, Vice-President General, Georgia; Mrs. Sterling, Connecticut; Mrs. Bushnell, Iowa; Mrs. Deere, Illinois; Mrs. Delafield, Missouri; Mrs. Stanley, Kansas; Mrs. Shepard, State Regent of New Hampshire; Miss Johns, Kansas; Mrs. Jamison, Virginia, and Mrs. Loyhed, Minnesota.

I would ask that all Officers will kindly hand in their reports at the time of the Board meeting, as this saves time and trouble in the preparation of the Minutes.

During the past month your National and District Officers were privileged to participate in honors attending the removal of the body of Governor George Clinton, an early Vice-President of the United States, also a hero of 1812.

At the request of the President General and in the name of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a wreath was placed on his bier. This honoring of a last century hero, passed in somber dignity against the glare of a unique political gathering, at which the President of the United States held friendly conferences with the Governors of the States, concerning the limitations of State and National authority.

Towering above these local and national ceremonies and amid the flags and martial melodies of the Western Continent, with eloquent tributes from statesmen and prayers of churchmen, the corner-stone of the Bureau of American Republics, or "Peace Palace," was laid. This great event gave evidence to the world that the Monroe Doctrine is not a myth but a reality, and embodied in marble the Twentieth Century Union of New World Republics.

The events of this history-making May recall the sentiments of the great English critic and teacher, Matthew Arnold, who said to a gathering at Harvard College: "In 1776 and 1812 you conquered your fathers; in the sixties you conquered each other; to-day it remains for you to conquer yourselves."

While the fragrance of Memorial Day is about us, is it arrogance to claim that the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in their beautiful Memorial Continental Hall, soon to be completed on this historic ground, shall help in the work of to-day?

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

ELISABETH F. PIERCE,
Recording Secretary General, N. S. D. A. R.

(Signed) BELL MERRILL DRAPER (MRS. AMOS G. DRAPER),
Registrar General, N. S. D. A. R.

Upon motion of Mrs. Noble, the Recording Secretary General cast the ballot for the applicants presented in the report of the Registrar General, and the Chair declared them duly elected members of the National Society, stating that the 53 applicants accepted tentatively would be subject to the usual requirements for membership, and that the action taken in the present instance was caused purely by a technicality in the preparation of the papers.

Following the report of the Registrar General, the President General called the attention of the Board to the name of Madame des Portes among the list admitted to membership, and read the following letter in this connection:

PARIS, RUE JAUFFROY,
April 23, 1908.

DEAR MRS. MCLEAN:

Your most amiable letter reaches me at Paris, where I now am, after one month of traveling.

It will be the greatest honor for my wife to be nominated by you amongst the Daughters of the American Revolution, and I cannot tell you how much we appreciate the kindness of your offer. I return to you the documents necessary for the application for my wife's membership, and I must tell you again that my wife will consider the most distinguished honor to be admitted into your society.

Believe me, dear Mrs. McLean,
Most faithfully yours,

(Signed)

HENRI DES PORTES,
Counselor of the French Embassy.

The President General stated at the time of the presentation by the French Government of the historic bas-relief to Memorial Continental Hall (during the first year of her administration as President General) the French Counselor was deeply impressed with the Daughters of the American Revolution, and informed her that his wife, Madame des Portes de la Fosse, was descended from a French hero who aided this country in the struggle for independence, and upon the suggestion of the President General that she would be pleased to nominate Mme. des Portes for membership in the National Society, the records of this lady were, with her application, later sent to the Registrar General, and are now presented to the Board for acceptance. The President General asked for this distinguished new member the good wishes of the Board.

REPORT OF THE VICE-PRESIDENT GENERAL IN CHARGE OF ORGANIZATION OF CHAPTERS: Madam President General, and Members of the National Board of Management: In accordance with the expressed choice of the chapters in the States not included in the Congressional elections for State Regent, the following names are presented for confirmation: Mrs. Sallie Bradford Tebault, State Regent Louisiana; Mrs. Alice Pendleton Clark, State Vice-Regent; Mrs. Mary Catherine Prince, State Regent, New Mexico; Mrs. Lalla D. Thomas, State Regent, Oregon; Mrs. Ruby Flint Hughes, State Vice-Regent.

You are also asked to confirm the re-appointment by the Vice-President General in Charge of Organization of Chapters of Mrs. Blanche Sprague as State Regent of Nevada.

The Board is requested to accept the resignation of Miss Mary A. Dartt, appointed as Regent in Springfield, Vermont; her work to be carried on by Miss Mabel Davis, appointed to-day.

The "Col. William Montgomery" Chapter, of Danville, Pennsylvania, in February, 1907, returned its charter, and announced, through its treasurer, its intention to disband; but the matter has remained unfinished through the lack of the formality of the expression of the will of the Chapter. Vice-Prest. Gen. in Charge of Organization of Chapters.

Report accepted.

At the conclusion of her report the Vice-President General in Charge of Organization of Chapters read some correspondence on the subject of the State Regency of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Draper suggested that a committee be appointed by the Chair to consider this matter.

The committee was then appointed, consisting of Mrs. Main, Chairman; Mrs. Mussey, Mrs. Hodgkins and Mrs. Brayton, with the request that they report at the October meeting of the Board.

Report of the Treasurer General was read:

MABEL G. SWORMSTEDT,
Treasurer General, N. S. D. A. R.

Report accepted.

Replying to the request of the Treasurer General for instruction from the Board in regard to the depositing of the surplus from the current to the permanent fund, the Chair stated that it would be well to consult with Mrs. Mussey on this subject.

Mrs. Hodgkins then moved: That the Treasurer General consult with the Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Mrs. Mussey in regard to the depositing of the surplus transferred from the current fund to the permanent fund, by the Congress of 1908. Seconded by Miss Harnit. Motion carried.

The Registrar General presented in a supplemental report the names of the dropped members; also of seven members re-instated to membership. It was moved and carried that this report be accepted. It was also moved and carried that the resignations be accepted.

REPORT OF THE HISTORIAN GENERAL: Madam President General and Members of the National Board: I have but a brief report to make personally. I have received many charming letters from distant members relative to the Congress, and the Lineage Books.

The work of the office has advanced rapidly despite the fact that extra work has occupied the compiler's time, to a great extent.

The 27th Volume has been copied from the original, and five hundred have been compared with the Card Catalogue. Two hundred and fifty have been compiled. I fully expected to present to you to-day the First Lineage Book. The proof only arrived on the first of June, after having been returned for corrections.

My article on General Muhlenberg has been published in the May number and other articles are ready for publication when there is space in the Magazine.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH GADSEY,
Historian General, N. S. D. A. R.

Report accepted.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT HISTORIAN GENERAL: Madam President General and Members of the National Board of Management: With pleasure the Chairman of the Committee on Directory makes the final report from this office. The supplemental lists, including all new Chapters and names of members admitted at the April Board meeting, are in this office, and are now sent with each copy of the Directory. As many copies were sold during the 17th Continental Congress, before the supplements were received, on request from purchasers, supplements have been mailed. During April following the Congress 13 supplements were mailed; 6 letters sent, and 1 postal.

The Chairman of the Committee on Sales, reported, and hopes to continue reporting, "sales." Receipts during the Congress, $132.00.

Considering the knowledge that a new Directory had been issued should be brought to the notice of every Chapter, postal cards have been sent to each Regent.

Receipts since postals were sent, May 16, 1908, $31.00. Total receipts to date, $163.00.

Twenty-one Directories have been distributed to the different offices. Supplements mailed in May, 15. Letters sent, 14. Postals, 1,000. Notification cards, 2.

Making in all from this office since last report: Letters, 20; postals, 1,000; supplements, 28.

The Assistant Historian has personally written 22 letters and distributed 12 supplements.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH M. BOWRON,

Assistant Historian General, N. S. D. A. R.

Report accepted.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, June 3, 1908.

The meeting re-convened after the recess and was called to order by the President General, who, with deep feeling and great enthusiasm, announced that the loan of $200,000, authorized by the Continental Congress for the completion of Memorial Continental Hall, had been successfully negotiated through the American Security & Trust Company. The members of the Board arose in a body to receive this most important announcement and with one accord expressed profound gratification. The President General spoke of the courtesy and consideration shown the Society Daughters of the American Revolution by the Officers of the above-mentioned Company. She also alluded feelingly to the constant and unbounded assistance, legal and otherwise, given her, at this period of arduous and responsible work, by her husband. (She, however, preferred not to put the motion, so kindly suggested, of a vote of thanks to her husband.) Further, the President General spoke of her able co-adjutor, in visiting the officials of the Trust Company, viz: the Vice-President General, Mrs. Ellen S. Mussey.

(The general feeling of gratitude and hopeful elation was so great as to prevent for a short time, the regular business.)

Mrs. Putnam moved: That a vote of appreciation be sent to the officers of the American Security and Trust Company for their courtesy to the Daughters of the American Revolution. Seconded by Mrs. Draper. Motion carried.

Mrs. Main moved a vote of thanks to the President General for having secured this loan; also That the President General be authorized and empowered to sign any and all contracts for the completion of Continental Hall.

Seconded by Mrs. Bowron and Mrs. Hodgkins. Motion carried.

The President General explained that although the loan had been secured, this would not do away with the necessity for making all efforts possible to obtain contributions as heretofore.

Mrs. Perley stated that she had occasion to speak before two Chapters since the Congress, and had appealed to them very strongly to renew their efforts for the coming year in contributing to the completion of the Hall.

Upon the announcement by the President General of a gift of a fire-proof door for the safe in Continental Hall by Mr. Thomas Spivey, Mrs. Gadsby moved: That a resolution of thanks be sent Mr. Thomas Sawyer Spivey for his generous gift of a fire-proof door for the vault of Memorial Continental Hall.

Seconded by Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Bowron, Mrs. Main, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Perley, Miss Harnit, Mrs. Hodgkins, Mrs. Brayton, Mrs. Lippitt, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Swormstedt, Mrs. Earnest and Miss Pierce. Motion carried.

The President General announced the gift of $500.00 from Mrs. Clarence Postley, of New York City, to Continental Hall fund, also $20.00 from Miss Preller, of New York City, and $10.00 from Mrs. Bates, of Massachusetts, accompanying her regrets for this meeting of the Board.

Mrs. Bowron moved: A letter of thanks from the National Board be sent to Mrs. Clarence A. Postley for her generous gift of $500.00 to Continental Hall.

Seconded by Mrs. Putnam. Motion carried.

Mrs. Talbot moved: That a vote of thanks be sent Miss Preller of the New York City Chapter for the gift of $20.00 towards the Continental Hall fund.

Seconded by Mrs. McNeil. Motion carried.

The gift of Mrs. Bates—$10.00 for Continental Hall—her customary offering when unable to attend the meetings of the Board,—was received with much appreciation.

A letter addressed to the Corresponding Secretary General from Miss Amy Green Thompson, was read, offering a slip of a willow tree planted by Deborah Sampson at her home in Sharon, Massachusetts,—the same to be planted in the grounds of Memorial Continental Hall, if so approved by the Board.

Mrs. Draper moved: That a resolution of thanks be sent to Miss Thompson for her beautiful offer and our acceptance of the valued gift, if found practicable in connection with the plans. Motion carried.

Mrs. Gadsby presented some relics for Continental Hall on the part of Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Byrnes, and Mrs. Perley moved: That we accept with thanks the gift of Mrs. Joseph Brown, a piece of wood from Annapolis, and a spread and table-cover from Mrs. Byrnes. Seconded by Mrs. Putnam and carried.

The President General expressed her personal appreciation of these gifts.

The reports of Committees were then taken up.

REPORT OF THE PRINTING COMMITTEE: Madam President General and Members of the National Board of Management: Your Chairman of the Printing Committee has simply to report that all orders from printing from the various departments of the Office have been promptly attended to as soon as received.

Previous to the Congress of 1908, several thousand slips containing a certain Amendment, were printed, in order that the large number of Constitutions still on hand might be made available for use, by inserting therein these slips. A new lot, however, will soon have to be printed, in accordance with the Amendments adopted at the 17th Continental Congress, also the new Officers' lists. I would suggest that three thousand of the Officers' lists be printed, instead of the usual five thousand, as there are always so many of these lists left over from year to year.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

ELISABETH F. PIERCE,
Chairman Printing Committee, N. S. D. A. R.

Report accepted.

REPORT OF THE PURCHASING COMMITTEE: Madam President General and Members of the National Board of Management: The necessary supplies for officers have been purchased and the bills approved.

REPORT OF THE MAGAZINE COMMITTEE: To the President General and National Board of Management: As Chairman of the Magazine Committee, I would present the wish of the Editor, that a reasonable amount be allowed to her for clerical services, thereby enabling her to devote more time to the essential part of the work as Editor. During the past year she was obliged to have help and since the Congress she has been obliged to have assistance twenty days; therefore, if it is the pleasure of the Board, I would suggest that she be granted a sufficient sum to relieve her from pressure of the increasing work.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZA H. L. BARKER,

Chairman Magazine Committee.

Miss Harnit moved: That the report of the Chairman of the Magazine Committee be accepted, including the adoption of the recommendation that an appropriation of $200.00 be authorized for clerical assistance for the Editor.

Seconded by Mrs. Gadsby. Motion carried.

Some years ago, when the Card Catalogue System was less universally used and less appreciated than it is at present, I asked the authority of the National Board to be allowed to substitute that system of keeping the subscription accounts, for the subscription book then in use, as it had become necessary to order a new subscription book.

The Board felt that it could not approve the change because of the initial expense involved.

I am glad to say that the Auditor has now recommended this change and the cards have been prepared.

The system of accounts is the same as that previously used.

Specifications for printing the magazine have been prepared and sent to the following printers, as our present yearly contract expires with the June number: George E. Howard and Byron S. Adams, Washington, District of Columbia; The Telegraph Printing Company, and the Star Independent Company, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and the New Era Printing Company, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Byron S. Adams, the Telegraph Printing Company, and the Star-Independent Company have submitted bids. The other firms did not care to bid at present.

The bids are submitted for your consideration. It will be seen that the Telegraph Printing Company continues to make the lowest bid.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

LILLIAN LOCKWOOD.

Report accepted.

Mrs. Draper moved: That the bid of the Harrisburg Printing Company for printing the Magazine for the ensuing year be accepted, being the lowest.

Seconded by Mrs. Bowron. Motion carried.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS METHODS IN DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION OFFICE: Your Committee has the honor to report that we have had several meetings and consultations with the Chairman of the Supervision Committee, and that the recommendations embodied in this report have met with the unanimous approval of us all.

While the recommendations to be presented may seem to encroach upon the province of the Supervision Committee, it was felt by the Chairman of that Committee that it was the province of the Committee on Business Methods to recommend changes to the Board, and the duty of the Supervision Committee to see that such recommendations as were adopted be carried out.

1. We would recommend that inasmuch as the National Society employs a number of clerks, that there be a regular schedule of wages for clerks in its employ, and that it be understood that this scale of wages shall not be deviated from in individual cases.

2. The stenographer to the Board; Compiler Lineage Book; Genealogist; Curator, and Bookkeeper have their salaries fixed by special action of the Board, and the Secretary to the President General by the latter. We would recommend that in all offices, except above, where there is only one clerk, the maximum compensation shall be $65.00 per month; in offices where there are more than one clerk the maximum compensation for the head clerk shall be $70.00; in offices where there are more than two clerks the maximum salary of the one who takes the place of the head clerk in case of absence shall be $60.00; and the maximum salary of all others be $50.00 per month.

3. We would recommend that temporary clerks may be engaged in the various offices where they are needed, by permission of the Board, at a maximum salary of $12.00 per week, and we would recommend that it shall be understood that so far as possible whenever a vacancy occurs in the permanent force, the place be filled by one of the temporary force, thus establishing a system of promotion by merit.

4. From the first of June to the first of October we would recommend that the hours be from nine until four o'clock for five days in the week, and from nine to twelve-thirty on Saturdays. From the first of October to the first of June the hours shall be from nine to four-thirty.

5. We would recommend that each temporary clerk who has been in the employ of the Society for six months or more, as well as the office boy, receive two weeks' leave, with pay, during the summer; but that it be understood in all cases that no clerk, permanent or temporary, shall ask for a vacation during the Board meeting week or the week preceeding; during Congress week or the week preceeding.

6. We would call attention to Article 6 of the By-Laws, which states that "All bills, except such as the Board of Management shall specifically exempt, shall be countersigned by the Chairman of the Finance Committee."

We would recommend that until further notice, the bills for rent of rooms, pensions of "Real Daughters," salary of office boy, and telephone, all of which sums are definitely fixed by the Board, be exempt.

7. The recommendation adopted last October that until further notice all application papers and money go to the Treasurer General, has tended to reduce the work of the National Society. We feel, however, that it can be still further reduced and also will be more acceptable to the Chapters in general, if the papers and money be sent to the Registrar General instead of the Treasurer General. We therefore recommend that this change be made and that the Registrar General be authorized to open an account in the name of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and receive all fees and dues of prospective members, after each Board meeting, turning over to the Treasurer General a list of names of those who have been admitted into the National Society, with the necessary fees and dues.

The former recommendation, adopted last October, reduced the number of card catalogues of new members from three to two. This arrangement, if carried out, will reduce the number to one. It will greatly reduce the work in the Treasurer General's office; will not affect the work in the office of the Vice-President General in Charge of Organization, nor of the work in connection with the card catalogues of which she has the charge; and will not greatly increase the work in the office of the Registrar General. It will also, we are quite confident, be an advantage to the majority of the chapters and tend to minimize any possible friction between them and the National Officers. The registrars are compelled to write to headquarters in regard to the application papers of prospective members. If in the letters which are obliged to be sent the necessary check could be inserted, it would save time and also prevent the many mistakes caused by different persons writing, or reading, the same name in different ways.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

MABEL G. SWORMSTEDT, per B. M. D.

BELL MERRILL DRAPER,

Chairman of Committee.

Mrs. Bowron moved the acceptance of this report. Seconded by Miss Pierce. Motion carried.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DROPPED MEMBERS: Your Committee has the honor to report that several cases which have been presented have been adjusted satisfactorily to all parties.

We wish to make two recommendations, however. One is, that when the new Constitutions are printed there be included in the general information, at the back, a paragraph embodying the ruling of the Board in regard to dropped members. This ruling has met with so much commendation from all persons in all sections of the country that we feel that if it were more generally known it might be the means of bringing back into the Society many who for various reasons have been dropped from the rolls.

We would call your attention to Article II, Section 2, of the National By-laws: "Every Chapter shall pay to the Treasurer General, on or before the twenty-second of March, the sum of One Dollar for each active member thereof."

We would recommend that if any Chapter neglects or fails to pay the dollar within twelve months after the twenty-second of March when it becomes due, that the name of the member shall be taken from the Chapter rolls, placed as a member-at-large, and unless the dues are forthcoming within another year, dropped from the rolls of the Society. In this way, no person who is dropped would be compelled to pay more than two years' back dues if she wished to re-enter the Society. We find that the names of many persons are kept on the Chapter rolls for five or six years and then dropped: a manifest injustice to the member.

One peculiar condition has been called to our attention and we bring the matter before the Board to ask for a definite ruling. When a Chapter membership falls below eleven and it has no active organization, not even a Regent, should the few members who formerly belonged to the Chapter be treated as Chapter members and be considered to be in good standing upon payment of only One Dollar, or should they be compelled to pay the Two Dollars until the Chapter is re-organized and becomes active?

This ruling is asked because it is known that various persons who are members of Chapters now in a state of "inocuous desuetude" have made themselves life members by the payment of only twelve dollars and and half, in direct contradiction to Article VIII, Section 2 of the Constitution, which states that the payment of Twenty-five Dollars at one time shall constitute a life membership.

Respectfully submitted,

MABEL G. SWORMSTEADT,
MARY LAWRENCE MARTIN,
BELL MERRILL DRAPER,
Chairman of Committee.

This report was taken up for consideration ad seriatim.

Mrs. Bowron moved the adoption of the first recommendation.
Carried.

It was moved and carried that the second recommendation be also adopted.

The third recommendation on which the Committee asked a ruling, was held in abeyance upon Mrs. Main's motion that this question be laid upon the table until the October meeting of the Board.

Mrs. Swormstedt requested that electric fans be placed in the offices desiring them.

Mrs. McNeil moved: That electric fans be placed in all the offices of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and that the Purchasing Committee be requested to act favorably. Seconded by Mrs. Lippitt. Motion carried.

The Registrar General spoke of the advisability of preparing a book of instructions for Chapter Registrars, and requested the President General to appoint a committee of Chapter Registrars to consult together to formulate such a book.

The Treasurer General stated that some of the clerks in her office had rendered extra service and requested compensation therefor; also referred to the fact that a portion of the annual leave was still due; this not having been taken previous to the Congress, owing to the resignation of a clerk from that department just before the Congress and requested that this leave be granted.

The Registrar General asked the privilege of extra clerical service; that is that the permission granted for this extra service last year, be continued now.

Mrs. Main moved: That the regular clerks in the Treasurer General's office be reimbursed for their work, caused by the resignation at short notice, just before the Congress. Seconded by Miss Pierce. Motion carried.

Mrs. Talbot moved: That the requests of the Registrar and Treasurer be granted. Seconded by Mrs. Perley. Motion carried.

Mrs. Lippitt asked for information on the following point: If a Chapter elects a certain number of delegates to the Congress and then before the Congress convenes, through resignations, deaths, or any reason whatever, the number is lowered, is the Chapter still entitled to its former representation in the Congress, or does the delegation drop off also?

The Chair requested the Chairman of the Credential Committee to explain this point. Mrs. Main stated as follows: The Credential Committee decided on this subject, that if the Chapter had the required number of members in good and regular standing at the time they elected the delegate, they are still entitled to their regular number or representation in the Congress.

The following requests for pensions for "Real Daughters" were acted upon: I move that the pension granted by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution to "Real Daughters," be paid to Mrs. Elizabeth Chambers of Columbus, Ohio, a member of the Columbus Chapter. Miss Fanny Harnit. Seconded by Mrs. Brayton. Motion carried.

I move that the pension granted by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution to "Real Daughters" be paid to Mrs. Samantha Morrison Flint, a member of the Ursula Wolcott Chapter, Toledo, Ohio. Mrs. Emma S. Brayton. Seconded by Mrs. Putnam. Motion carried.

In the absence of the Chairman of the Auditing Committee, and of Mrs. Newberry, the second member of the Committee, the President General presented to the Board a summary of the Auditor's report.

In connection with this report, the following motions were adopted: I move that the action of the special meeting of the Board in April, authorizing the Chairman of the Supervision Committee to attend to such routine business as was necessary until June, be considered as authorizing the payment for services of extra clerks in the Treasurer General's office, and is therefore confirmed by the Board. Elizabeth M. Bowron. Seconded by Mrs. Allen Perley.

I move that the Certificate account be re-opened, and the former motion to abolish it be rescinded. Bell Merrill Draper. Seconded by Mrs. Swormstedt.

Touching the recommendation in regard to the vouchers presented by the Auditor, this was held in abeyance until the Treasurer General and the Auditing Committee could consult together on the subject.

At the request of the Treasurer General, instructions were given for the signing of the pay roll during the summer.

The Executive Committee, as nominated, was presented by the Chair to the Board and elected, as follows: Mrs. Mussey, Mrs. Main, Miss Pierce, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Boynton, Mrs. Bowron, Mrs. Deere, and Mrs. Newberry, the President General, Chairman of Committee.

The President General presented for consideration of the Board a letter addressed to her in regard to the project of petitioning the United States Congress to reclaim certain lands in Ohio, the funds to go to the family of General Washington.

It was moved and carried to hold this matter until the October meeting, to be considered by a committee. The President General stated that this committee would consist of the State Regent and State Vice-Regent of Ohio, with Mrs. Draper and the State Regent of Colorado.

Mrs. Draper requested the President General to appoint a committee to act in connection with the Government for the preservation of American forests, in accordance with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Board.

There being no further business before the Board, it was moved and carried at quarter to six o'clock to adjourn.

Respectfully submitted,
